

INTERNATIONAL Herald Tribune

Published with The New York Times and The Washington Post

PARIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1972

Established 1887

Nixon Welcomed With Cheers by Warsaw Throngs

From Wire Dispatches

WARSAW, May 31.—Tens of thousands of shouting and singing welcomed President Nixon today as he landed at the airport here. The American leader was greeted by a massive crowd of Poles who chanted "Long live Poland!" and "Long live Nixon!"

Delay Possible On the Big 4 Berlin Pact

By Robert G. Kaiser

BERLIN, May 31 (UPI).—

There is a possibility of a delay in the signing of the Big Four agreement on the Berlin Pact.

The pact, which would regulate the movement of people and goods between the East and West, is expected to be signed today.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers—Soviet Union, United States, Great Britain, and France.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

The pact is expected to be signed today, but there is a possibility of a delay.

The pact is part of a series of agreements between the four major powers.

Swirls of partly wiped up blood and battered, abandoned baggage and belongings in Lydda Airport arrival lounge.

ATTACK VICTIM—One of those injured in the terrorist attack at Lydda Airport being wheeled into a Tel Aviv hospital from an ambulance by emergency rescue unit.

Vinh Bombed in N. Vietnam

South Vietnam Units Regain Ground in Besieged Kontum

SAIGON, May 31 (AP).—South Vietnamese forces pushed back some ground in Kontum today, but they were still surrounded by North Vietnamese troops. The city is a strategic point in the northern part of the country.

The senior U.S. civilian adviser in the Central Highlands, John Paul Vann, said the North Vietnamese were pulling back but they were still in the area.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. Navy aircraft dropped a large number of bombs around the city of Vinh to block stored war supplies and destroy petroleum.

The "favorable developments" that have made all this possible are the treaty that has been negotiated by the West German government under Willy Brandt with the Soviet Union, the improvement in inter-German relations and the Big Four agreement on Berlin.

The communiqué today noted all this, specifically commenting that "the Soviet Union thinks it will lead to a reduction in tensions."

Sometimes this fall then, between September and December, ambassadors in Helsinki or special representatives sent there from the interested countries will start talking with the Poles and with each other on setting up the conference agenda.

The communiqué stated that the allies expected "practical results" from the conference, which in plain terms means steps toward ending of the division of Europe. The communiqué states that the results of the Helsinki talks will determine whether there are grounds to proceed with the full conference.

"I don't think there is any reason to be pessimistic about the conference," U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen after today's final spring council meeting. He said that he had had several talks with the Soviet leadership on the subject while in Moscow and the Soviet Union thinks it will lead to a reduction in tensions."

Sometimes this fall then, between September and December, ambassadors in Helsinki or special representatives sent there from the interested countries will start talking with the Poles and with each other on setting up the conference agenda.

The communiqué stated that the allies expected "practical results" from the conference, which in plain terms means steps toward ending of the division of Europe. The communiqué states that the results of the Helsinki talks will determine whether there are grounds to proceed with the full conference.

"I don't think there is any reason to be pessimistic about the conference," U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen after today's final spring council meeting. He said that he had had several talks with the Soviet leadership on the subject while in Moscow and the Soviet Union thinks it will lead to a reduction in tensions."

Sometimes this fall then, between September and December, ambassadors in Helsinki or special representatives sent there from the interested countries will start talking with the Poles and with each other on setting up the conference agenda.

The communiqué stated that the allies expected "practical results" from the conference, which in plain terms means steps toward ending of the division of Europe. The communiqué states that the results of the Helsinki talks will determine whether there are grounds to proceed with the full conference.

"I don't think there is any reason to be pessimistic about the conference," U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen after today's final spring council meeting. He said that he had had several talks with the Soviet leadership on the subject while in Moscow and

Lebanon Denies Involvement

Palestinians Call Lydda Raid Act of Revenge Against Israel

BEIRUT, May 31 (Reuters).—The Palestinian group which masterminded yesterday's Lydda Airport attack said today that it was an act of revenge against Israel designed to show that the guerrillas were still an effective force on the fifth anniversary of the Middle East war.

A statement by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP) said the group was "despite all difficulties" it said the Middle East war began June 5, 1967.

Lebanon tonight condemned "attacks against innocent civilians" and said it will refer the matter to the United Nations.

The front said that it did not regard tourists visiting Israel as innocent civilians.

"The mere choice of our occupied territory [Israel] as a place for terrorism is in itself a bias in favor of the enemy," the PFLP declared.

The statement said that the operation was an act of revenge for what it called Israeli massacres of innocent people in Egypt, Jordan and Lebanon, and for the deaths of two terrorists during the Israeli storming of a hijacked Belgian airliner at Lydda Airport earlier this month.

Anticipating worldwide criticism for organizing the Lydda attack, the PFLP statement said, "Many attempts will be made to exploit this operation by talking about humanitarian considerations and about exposing innocent people's lives to danger, and so forth."

"What interests us now is to remind everybody, especially the butchers of the Zionist occupation, of the massacres they carried out against the innocent children of Bahr al-Bahar school and the workers of Abu Zaabal factory in Egypt, against the people of Salt and Irbid, in Jordan and against innocent people in southern Lebanon."

"They must understand that these massacres will not go unanswered however long it takes..."

The front, which has carried out some of the more spectacular hijackings in the last three years, said the operation yesterday was a legitimate way of carrying the fight into occupied territory.

The fifth anniversary of "the Zionist-imperialist aggression against our Arab nation is an occasion for the revolutionaries to renew their pledges to the masses, showing that the commando torch is still burning and that our march is continuing, despite all difficulties," it said.

The Middle East war began June 5, 1967.

Lebanon tonight condemned "attacks against innocent civilians" and said it will refer the matter to the United Nations.

The front said that it did not regard tourists visiting Israel as innocent civilians.

"The mere choice of our occupied territory [Israel] as a place for terrorism is in itself a bias in favor of the enemy," the PFLP declared.

The statement said that the operation was an act of revenge for what it called Israeli massacres of innocent people in Egypt, Jordan and Lebanon, and for the deaths of two terrorists during the Israeli storming of a hijacked Belgian airliner at Lydda Airport earlier this month.

Anticipating worldwide criticism for organizing the Lydda attack, the PFLP statement said, "Many attempts will be made to exploit this operation by talking about humanitarian considerations and about exposing innocent people's lives to danger, and so forth."

"What interests us now is to remind everybody, especially the butchers of the Zionist occupation, of the massacres they carried out against the innocent children of Bahr al-Bahar school and the workers of Abu Zaabal factory in Egypt, against the people of Salt and Irbid, in Jordan and against innocent people in southern Lebanon."

"They must understand that these massacres will not go unanswered however long it takes..."

The front, which has carried out some of the more spectacular hijackings in the last three years, said the operation yesterday was a legitimate way of carrying the fight into occupied territory.

The fifth anniversary of "the Zionist-imperialist aggression against our Arab nation is an occasion for the revolutionaries to renew their pledges to the masses, showing that the commando torch is still burning and that our march is continuing, despite all difficulties," it said.

The Middle East war began June 5, 1967.

Lebanon tonight condemned "attacks against innocent civilians" and said it will refer the matter to the United Nations.

The front said that it did not regard tourists visiting Israel as innocent civilians.

"The mere choice of our occupied territory [Israel] as a place for terrorism is in itself a bias in favor of the enemy," the PFLP declared.

Israel Pins Blame Upon Lebanon in Airport Massacre

From Wire Dispatches

JERUSALEM, May 31.—Israeli Premier Golda Meir today called on world governments and airlines to take firm action to prevent attacks similar to that by a Japanese suicide squad—working for Arab guerrillas—which left 25 people dead and 78 more wounded at Lydda International Airport.

She also warned that Israel would find a way to prevent the recurrence of such a massacre.

At the same time, Israel announced that it is holding Lebanon responsible for the slaughter because it claims Beirut supports the Arab organizations which plan such attacks and train the men to carry them out.

The survivor among the three Japanese gunmen who killed or wounded more than 100 persons in a burst of explosions and gunfire last night was reported by his interrogators to have been trained in an Arab camp.

Amid conflicting reports on the casualty toll, the Israeli national radio set the figures at 25 dead, including 14 Puerto Ricans on pilgrimage to the Holy Land, and 78 wounded, many of them slightly enough to be treated and released. Eight remained in critical condition.

No Secret

"It is no secret that Beirut openly harbors the headquarters of the terror organizations," Mrs. Meir told a nationwide radio audience. She added:

"It is there that the planning takes place, that instructions are dispatched to various states, and broadcasts about the successful operations emanate."

At the same time, in a letter to the UN Security Council, Israel said it holds Lebanon responsible for allowing Arab guerrilla activities which led to last night's massacre.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban added in a radio interview: "It is there that they give instructions to those murderers to take action."

● French government denies blame in Tel Aviv killings. Page 3.

● Rome airport officials had tip on possible terrorism. Page 3.

at the expense of the sovereignty and security of other countries."

Mrs. Meir cited the "rejoicing" in Cairo and Beirut at the "wanton premeditated murder" at Lydda and noted that "we have always found a remedy to the things and actions of the guerrillas. I am sure we shall overcome this time as well..."

"Israel will find a remedy to make sure that what has happened will never occur again."

"Great Heroes"

Sarcastically Mrs. Meir added, "Those who could not face us on the battlefield are great heroes when it comes to planting explosives on planes, hitting passengers, blowing up planes in the air."

"Let us hope that the baseness of this crime and this trend in terrorist organizations will be pilloried by governments throughout the world and that Arab states which join in the great rejoicing over the massacre will carry the full responsibility for these acts."

Mr. Eban said: "There is far too much indulgence and ease for the Lebanese capital to become the center from which offenses against the human race are conducted."

The remarks recalled the destruction of 13 airlines by Israeli troops at Beirut airport on Christmas Eve, 1968, in retaliation for a guerrilla attack against an El Al Israel airliner in Athens, five days earlier.

During his interview, he asked: "Has the international community really no power to prevent Beirut from being the capital of these activities which are an offense against the human race?"

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Japan Sends Deep Regret To Israelis

Shocked Nation Vows To Pay Compensation

By Tillman Durdin

TOKYO, May 31 (NYT).—Japan reacted with shock and mortification today to the shooting at Lydda Airport in Israel in which more than 100 persons were killed or wounded by three Japanese terrorists.

Some Japanese felt that the incident would damage Japan's image abroad and officials were quick to express the national mood by condemning and repudiating the outbreak.

Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda called the violence "a disgrace for Japan" and dispatched Hideo Tanaka, counselor of the Foreign Ministry's Middle Eastern and African Affairs Bureau, to Tel Aviv to investigate the incident.

When Premier Eisaku Sato heard of the slaying, he said: "Can there really be Japanese who would act like this?"

Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs Shinsuke Hogen sent a message to the Israeli government expressing the Japanese government's regret over the incident.

Foreign Minister Fukuda this evening called on Israeli Ambassador Eytan Rabin to voice his regrets and to discuss the matter. He said that the ambassador had assured him that the Israeli government would see to the safety of Japanese now staying in Israel.

The foreign minister told a parliamentary committee that the Japanese government would take "proper measures" to pay compensation to families of victims of the shootings.

The presumption in the National Police Agency here is that the three terrorists are members of the ultrafascist United Red Army or one of its splinter groups. This group advocates armed revolution by means of guerrilla warfare.

Japanese have already had occasion to experience dismay and revulsion over the actions in Japan of this small movement which is said to have about 300 adherents. Earlier this year, some of its members brutally tortured to death 15 members of the movement for alleged discipline and ideological deviation. Later, these members holed up in a mountain resort with a woman hostage for more than a week during which they shot to death two policemen and injured several others.

Thousands Sign Peace Petitions

2 Soldiers Die in Ulster; Dublin Seizes Cahill

BELFAST, May 31 (UPI).—The killing continued in Northern Ireland today, even while people signed petitions appealing for it to end.

Two British soldiers were killed early today, the fourth and fifth deaths in 24 hours. Revised British Army figures showed 357 deaths since 1969 in strife between Ulster's Protestants and minority Roman Catholics.

In Belfast and Londonderry, residents flocked to sign petitions circulated by housewives pleading that the killing stop. One Catholic priest compiling the petitions said that the turnout "exceeded all our expectations."

"It represents an overwhelming vote against violence from the Catholic community in the city," the Rev. Thomas Cunningham said in Belfast.

Housewives in the Catholic Andersonstown district organized the petition campaign, placing "peace books" in 12 parish churches.

"In one parish 90 percent signed," Father Cunningham said. More peace petitions were being signed in Londonderry. Five housewives there, backed by a 16-man "peace committee," staffed schools in the Roman Catholic "no-go" areas collecting signatures.

Persons once afraid to put their names to anything for fear of Irish Republican Army reprisals signed freely with full names and addresses.

Mrs. Mary Barr, 39, one of the housewives' leaders, said that they would keep pressure on the militant Provisional wing of the IRA to follow the Official wing in calling a cease-fire.

Meanwhile, in Dublin, Joe Cahill, former head of the Provisional wing, was arrested today following a police raid.

Twenty members of the Irish Republic's Special Branch police raided the Dublin offices of the Provisional Sinn Fein, the IRA's political arm.

Police later arrested Rory O'Brady, president of the Provisional wing of the Sinn Fein.

It was understood that Mr. Cahill, 51, was seized on a 24-hour detention order under the Offenses Against the State Act.

Mr. Cahill's lawyer said that the IRA leader would refuse all food until he was released.

Mr. Cahill helped found the militant Provisional wing in December, 1969, but was hunted out of his Belfast headquarters by British troops in Northern Ireland.

He gave up the IRA leadership there last August and has been operating from Dublin and the Irish Republic since then.

Mr. Cahill was detained by police in Dublin last September following an abortive fundraising trip to the United States.

He was released without any charges being brought against him.

But, in Ulster, the Provisionals' campaign of bomb and bullet went unabated. One British soldier was killed, four others and two civilians wounded, when a 20-pound bomb blasted an inside room of Springfield Road Barracks, one of the most heavily guarded buildings in Northern Ireland. Army spokesmen said that they were baffled that the bomber could get in and out unseen. A top-level inquiry was ordered.

Another soldier died from a sniper's bullet. Two civilians died in separate shooting incidents last night. A 12-year-old Protestant girl wounded Sunday night died of her gunshot wounds during the night.

A masked terrorist planted a bomb in a pub in the village of Dungannon, shouting that it would go off in five minutes and ran. No one was hurt in the blast.

In Londonderry, staff members evacuated the Ulster Bank in the city center before a bomb damaged the three-story building. There were no injuries.

NATO Ready for Europe Security Parley

By James Goldsborough

BONN, May 31 (UPI).—NATO officials gave the go-ahead to a long discussed European conference on security and cooperation today when the NATO Council decided that recent "favorable developments" now made the conference possible.

The 15-nation council accepted Finnish proposals to begin preparatory talks in Helsinki some time this fall, although no dates are mentioned. These preparatory talks will set up an agenda for the full conference, which, in no problems, would take place sometime next year with as many as 35 nations participating.

Participating nations would include probably every major European nation—those in NATO, the Warsaw Pact countries, the Western neutrals, Communist countries such as Yugoslavia and Albania, and possibly even such states as the Vatican, Monaco and San Marino. The United States and Canada will also participate.

The goal of the conference, as stated in the NATO communiqué today, would be to "eliminate obstacles to closer relations and cooperation among the participating states while maintaining the security of all."

While Urging More Security
Israel Will Prevent Any More
Massacres, Mrs. Meir Warns

See Revenge

See Revenge

	O	F
ALGAEVE	21	64
AMSTERDAM	13	94
ANKARA	21	70
ATHENS	22	72
BETHUN	22	72
BERLIN	28	74
BRISLAD	15	58
BRUSSELS	13	85
CARACAS	13	85
CAIRO	27	81
CASABLANCA	22	72
COPENHAGEN	11	53
COSTA DEL SOL	13	85
DACON	20	74
DENBURGH	13	84
FLORENCE	23	72
FRANKFURT	16	81
GENEVA	16	81
GRANVILLE	13	53
HAMBURG	28	84
HALL PALMAS	20	68
HONGKONG	16	81
LONDON	16	87
LONDON	23	72
MILAN	17	81
MONTREAL	19	68
MONTREAL	19	68
MUNICH	18	61
NEW YORK	17	73
PARIS	13	55
PARIS	13	58
PRAGUE	16	61
PRAGUE	16	61
STOCKHOLM	20	50
STOCKHOLM	20	50
TRIPOLI	20	50
TUNIS	23	73
TUNIS	23	73
VIENNA	13	57
VIENNA	13	57
WASHINGTON	14	67
WASHINGTON	14	67

CHUNN Established 1925
 Harrogate Albionians (Pres.)
PERFUMES
 Unrivalled Glits, Glories, Etc., Etc., Genuine Continental export discount prices. — 10% —

Security at Orly

French Government Denies
Come in Tel Aviv Killings

PARIS, May 31 (Reuters).—The French government said today that it was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

Home Airport and Warning Terrorism

PARIS, May 31 (Reuters).—The French government said today that it was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

The French government spokesman said today that the French government was not responsible for the killing of two Israelis at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport.

SIGN LANGUAGE—Democratic presidential hopeful Hubert Humphrey wiggles his fingers beside his head while telling Los Angeles pre-schoolers about a donkey with ears. He visited the Head Start program center after addressing a group of black clergymen. Judging from the microphones and cameras the scene was well recorded.

Defense Issue Stressed in California

Humphrey, McGovern Calm in 2d 'Debate'

By Leroy F. Aarons

LOS ANGELES, May 31 (UPI).—A cool Hubert H. Humphrey and a somewhat heated George McGovern met last night for the second time in what was billed as a debate but came off more as a dual—and inconclusive—press conference.

The forum was a special one-hour "Meet the Press" program televised nationally over NBC. A third and final session is scheduled Sunday night, two days before the decisive California Democratic primary.

Unlike last Sunday in their "Face the Nation" contest, the two rivals had little chance last night to get at one another, spending most of their time answering the probing questions of the four-man panel composed of columnist Robert Novak, NBC correspondent Tom Pettit, Richard Bergholts of the Los Angeles Times and Haynes Johnson of The Washington Post.

Discussion continued to focus on the three principal issues in the California campaign—defense, welfare and tax reform.

Cooler Atmosphere
But in contrast to the first meeting, where Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota staged an aggressive attack and Sen. McGovern of South Dakota spent most of his time on the defensive, last night's meeting was reasoned and calm, almost professorial.

The attack, in fact, came from the panel of newsmen. Sen. Humphrey, under advice from his closest campaign strategists, remained relatively terse and controlled for the most part. Sen. McGovern, while maintaining his relaxed Midwestern reserve, did get ruffled at one point under intensive questioning from Mr. Novak.

There was little clarification of the complex mathematical formulas involved in Sen. McGovern's tax and defense proposals. More significantly, the difference of emphasis between the two men came across more clearly than before.

On the question of his proposal for a $24-billion arms reduction—which has come under severe attack from the Minnesota senator—Sen. McGovern said: "This is where Sen. Humphrey and I take issue. We both give lip service to the idea of arms reduction. But when we have the chance to spell out where those reductions are going to come, such as the reduction of American troops in Europe, Sen. Humphrey says, 'No, we can't afford that.'"

Wounded to Fast
Asked what he would do if his defense budget cuts proved excessive several years from now, Sen. McGovern responded, "Obviously what I'm proposing is a budget based on the assumption of a changing world. If we're attacked tomorrow morning, all bets are off... it's a different world than it was in the past. So many of our people are so wedded to the past they can't realize a new day has come, that we have to begin recognizing that the central threat to this country is not from abroad. The central threat are problems right here in our society. And if we spend too much in military overkill capacity... we only weaken the nation by depriving ourselves of resources we need here at home."

Sen. Humphrey, while agreeing that defense spending should be cut, offered a smaller reduction figure suggested by a Brookings

Chaves Continues
Fast Despite Risk
PHOENIX, Ariz., May 31 (AP).—Despite warnings by two doctors that he risks damaging his health permanently, farm labor leader Cesar Chavez today went into his 20th day of a fast.

The doctors urged Mr. Chavez yesterday to end his fast immediately because he was extremely weak and might have to be hospitalized soon.

Mr. Chavez, 45, who reportedly has lost 26 pounds since May 11, is fasting to protest passage of a measure by the Arizona Legislature to ban harvest strikes and eliminate most boycotts. He is drinking only small amounts of water.

Sen. Humphrey, while agreeing that defense spending should be cut, offered a smaller reduction figure suggested by a Brookings

Chaves Continues
Fast Despite Risk
PHOENIX, Ariz., May 31 (AP).—Despite warnings by two doctors that he risks damaging his health permanently, farm labor leader Cesar Chavez today went into his 20th day of a fast.

The doctors urged Mr. Chavez yesterday to end his fast immediately because he was extremely weak and might have to be hospitalized soon.

Mr. Chavez, 45, who reportedly has lost 26 pounds since May 11, is fasting to protest passage of a measure by the Arizona Legislature to ban harvest strikes and eliminate most boycotts. He is drinking only small amounts of water.

Sen. Humphrey, while agreeing that defense spending should be cut, offered a smaller reduction figure suggested by a Brookings

Chaves Continues
Fast Despite Risk
PHOENIX, Ariz., May 31 (AP).—Despite warnings by two doctors that he risks damaging his health permanently, farm labor leader Cesar Chavez today went into his 20th day of a fast.

The doctors urged Mr. Chavez yesterday to end his fast immediately because he was extremely weak and might have to be hospitalized soon.

Mr. Chavez, 45, who reportedly has lost 26 pounds since May 11, is fasting to protest passage of a measure by the Arizona Legislature to ban harvest strikes and eliminate most boycotts. He is drinking only small amounts of water.

Common Cause Acts

91 Fail to Disclose Spending
In Campaign, Suits Charge

By Ben A. Franklin

WASHINGTON, May 31 (NYT).—Common Cause, the reformist citizens' action group, filed formal complaints here yesterday charging that 91 candidates for nomination to the House of Representatives from five states have violated the law by failing to comply fully for more than a month with the new federal Campaign Spending Disclosure Act.

The complaints, filed with the clerk of the House, said that government officials have done nothing to prosecute the delinquent candidates, 30 of whom were victors in recent primary elections and are now full-fledged candidates for House seats. The complaints were designed to require government action.

The penalty for failure to file the required reports, upon conviction, is a $1,000 fine or one year in prison, or both. Under terms of the new federal election campaign act, a citizens' complaint of an alleged violation requires an "expedient investigation" by election officials here, with a recommendation for prosecution if the charge is valid.

At a news conference in the Common Cause headquarters, John Gardner, the former secretary of health, education and welfare who is the founder and chairman of the 200,000-member "citizens' lobby," said that "in an election year, any delay in the prompt execution of the (supervisory authorities) responsibilities will make a mockery of the whole enforcement process."

At the Capitol office of W. Pat Jennings, the clerk of the House, officials said the Common Cause complaints were "under review."

Paul Wolf, the clerk's legal counsel, would not appraise the validity of the 91 complaints, but he acknowledged that some House candidates have failed to file reports required by law.

"We have written letters to those not in compliance," Mr. Wolf said. "We are doing everything we can to gain compliance."

Mr. Gardner was reporting yesterday on early results of a voluntary, nationwide Common Cause monitoring of compliance with and enforcement of the new campaign finance law, which went into effect April 7.

"It has become clear that many candidates are determined to treat the new law as lightly as the federal Corrupt Practices Act which it replaced," Mr. Gardner said.

He said there would be further complaints later against non-filing candidates in the primary elections in such other states as Kentucky, Maryland, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oregon, Texas and West Virginia.

"Right to Know"
"People in this country have a right to know where a candidate for federal office obtains money to finance his campaign," he said. "Common Cause intends to make sure that this right is preserved."

The complaints filed yesterday alleged that 41 House candidates in Pennsylvania, 35 in Ohio, 22 in Indiana, two in Alabama and one in the District of Columbia had failed to file by the statutory primary deadline the required financial statements disclosing campaign contributions and expenditures.

The alleged failures to file involved chiefly the omission of duplicate copies of the statements required to be submitted to the House clerk, which the federal law says must be filed simultaneously with each state's secretary of state.

Twenty-eight of the 91 complaints, however, charged that the named candidates had failed as of May 1 to file any financial reports, either here or in their home states. None of those named was an incumbent.

A Black Is Elected
To Leading Union Post
HOUSTON, May 31 (AP).—William Lucy, a Negro, was elected secretary-treasurer of the 550,000-member AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees yesterday.

Jerry Wurf, re-elected president of the union, said Mr. Lucy's new position was the most powerful in the nation's labor movement to be held by a black man.

Mr. Lucy, 39, has been an official of the union for eight years and played a key role in the organizing of sanitation workers in Memphis, Tenn., during disturbances in which Dr. Martin Luther King was slain in 1968.

Mr. Lucy is a native of Memphis. Mr. Lucy and Dr. King worked together in the labor dispute with the city at the time.

Mrs. Wallace May Go to California
To Aid Husband

SILVER SPRING, Md., May 31 (AP).—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's wife, Corella, may campaign in California for her husband, Mississippi Gov. William Waller said yesterday.

"It is my understanding that Mrs. Wallace plans to campaign in California and will do so, but the time has not yet been set," the Democratic governor told reporters.

However, Billy Joe Camp, Gov. Wallace's press secretary, said: "Mrs. Wallace will not leave the governor's side until doctors assure her that she can leave with relative ease of mind." Gov. Wallace was still hospitalized at Silver Spring, Md., recovering from bullet wounds suffered in a May 15 assassination attempt.

He did not rule out, though, the possibility of Mrs. Wallace going to California, where Wallace forces are mounting a write-in campaign for the Democratic presidential aspirant.

Gov. Wallace's son, George Jr., 20, is scheduled to campaign for his father in California and New Mexico.

At a news conference in the Common Cause headquarters, John Gardner, the former secretary of health, education and welfare who is the founder and chairman of the 200,000-member "citizens' lobby," said that "in an election year, any delay in the prompt execution of the (supervisory authorities) responsibilities will make a mockery of the whole enforcement process."

At the Capitol office of W. Pat Jennings, the clerk of the House, officials said the Common Cause complaints were "under review."

Paul Wolf, the clerk's legal counsel, would not appraise the validity of the 91 complaints, but he acknowledged that some House candidates have failed to file reports required by law.

"We have written letters to those not in compliance," Mr. Wolf said. "We are doing everything we can to gain compliance."

Mr. Gardner was reporting yesterday on early results of a voluntary, nationwide Common Cause monitoring of compliance with and enforcement of the new campaign finance law, which went into effect April 7.

"It has become clear that many candidates are determined to treat the new law as lightly as the federal Corrupt Practices Act which it replaced," Mr. Gardner said.

He said there would be further complaints later against non-filing candidates in the primary elections in such other states as Kentucky, Maryland, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oregon, Texas and West Virginia.

"Right to Know"
"People in this country have a right to know where a candidate for federal office obtains money to finance his campaign," he said. "Common Cause intends to make sure that this right is preserved."

The complaints filed yesterday alleged that 41 House candidates in Pennsylvania, 35 in Ohio, 22 in Indiana, two in Alabama and one in the District of Columbia had failed to file by the statutory primary deadline the required financial statements disclosing campaign contributions and expenditures.

The alleged failures to file involved chiefly the omission of duplicate copies of the statements required to be submitted to the House clerk, which the federal law says must be filed simultaneously with each state's secretary of state.

Twenty-eight of the 91 complaints, however, charged that the named candidates had failed as of May 1 to file any financial reports, either here or in their home states. None of those named was an incumbent.

A Black Is Elected
To Leading Union Post
HOUSTON, May 31 (AP).—William Lucy, a Negro, was elected secretary-treasurer of the 550,000-member AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees yesterday.

Jerry Wurf, re-elected president of the union, said Mr. Lucy's new position was the most powerful in the nation's labor movement to be held by a black man.

Mr. Lucy, 39, has been an official of the union for eight years and played a key role in the organizing of sanitation workers in Memphis, Tenn., during disturbances in which Dr. Martin Luther King was slain in 1968.

Mr. Lucy is a native of Memphis. Mr. Lucy and Dr. King worked together in the labor dispute with the city at the time.

At a news conference in the Common Cause headquarters, John Gardner, the former secretary of health, education and welfare who is the founder and chairman of the 200,000-member "citizens' lobby," said that "in an election year, any delay in the prompt execution of the (supervisory authorities) responsibilities will make a mockery of the whole enforcement process."

At the Capitol office of W. Pat Jennings, the clerk of the House, officials said the Common Cause complaints were "under review."

Paul Wolf, the clerk's legal counsel, would not appraise the validity of the 91 complaints, but he acknowledged that some House candidates have failed to file reports required by law.

"We have written letters to those not in compliance," Mr. Wolf said. "We are doing everything we can to gain compliance."

Mr. Gardner was reporting yesterday on early results of a voluntary, nationwide Common Cause monitoring of compliance with and enforcement of the new campaign finance law, which went into effect April 7.

"It has become clear that many candidates are determined to treat the new law as lightly as

I'm Karen.
Now I have the only daily 747's from London to the Sunshine States of America. Fly me.

I've got a lot going for you to Miami and the Sunshine States of America, with the only daily nonstop flights from London and our own kind of personal service. And a lot from Miami: I've got great connections to all of Florida, New Orleans, Houston, California, the Caribbean; you name it. Then fly it.

And right now I have the nice convenience of the only daily 747's to Miami. Pick the day you want to go. Then go.

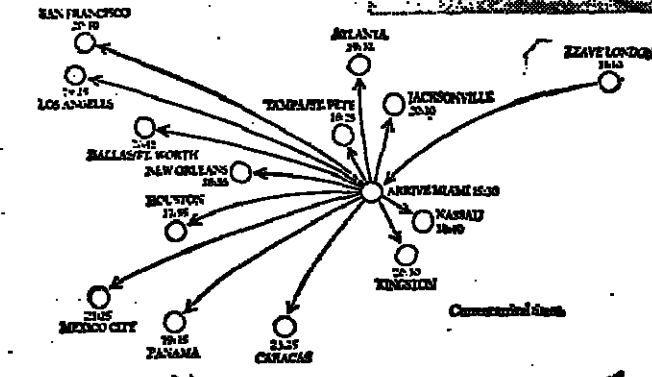

And the beautiful luxury of the great 747, with more cabin room than any airliner in the sky today.

And the 747 extras en route: first-run movies,* multi-channelled audio entertainment and our international gourmet cuisine.

And a refreshing kind of personal service, person-to-person.

Give it a go, won't you? Fly my daily 747's to the Sunshine States of America.

Telephone National Airlines direct, or ring up your travel agent. Tell him Karen sent you.

Fly Karen. Fly National Airlines.

National Airlines, Wiesenhüttenstr. 26, 6 Frankfurt/Main (232101); 81 Piccadilly, London W.1. (01-629 8272); 102 Champs Elysées, 75-Paris 8 (215 6415/256 2577); Via Bissolati 54, Rome 00184 (478-030).

*Movies and stereo by In-Flight Motion Pictures, Inc. Available at nominal charge. National Honorary American Express, Barclaycard, Carte Blanche, Diners Club, UAIZ, and cash.

Vote Forces Sen. McClellan to Risky Runoff Primary

ITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 31 (AP).—Arkansas Democrats have voted to give Sen. John McClellan a majority endorsement for nomination to a sixth term, forcing a politically risky runoff primary with Rep. David Pryor.

McClellan led the ticket expected in yesterday's primary, but his vote total was well below a majority in the four-man race that would have allowed him to escape the runoff.

A handsome Rep. Pryor, 37, making that Arkansas incumbent traditionally have founded runoff, predicted victory in June 13 rematch, promising voters "one of the most long races ever run in Arkansas."

McClellan, 76, whose aged as a major issue, said he demonstrated during the campaign that he was not handicapped and that he was ready to wage a vigorous runoff campaign if necessary. He has in the Senate for 30 years.

McClellan "disappointed" through his vote total hovered about 45 percent through the vote, Sen. McClellan would not admit that he was forced into a runoff but admitted that he was "a little disappointed" at his loss.

Rep. Pryor, displaying strength statewide, especially in the south Arkansas House district that he represented for three terms, acted about 42 percent of the vote in incomplete returns.

With 2,442 of 2,618 precincts counted, Sen. McClellan had 423 votes to Rep. Pryor's 421.

Ed Boswell, a lawyer, polled 26 votes in finishing third. A businessman, Foster Johnson, running for the Senate for the third time, received 5,863 votes.

Sen. John L. McClellan

Gov. Dale Bumpers easily won the Democratic nomination for a second term over four rivals. The Republicans did not have a statewide primary fight.

Rep. Pryor, considered a moderate, campaigned on his concern for "the forgotten people," who, he said, were not being represented by Sen. McClellan. He claimed the conservative senator was representing only the "upper crust" of the Arkansas electorate.

Sen. McClellan campaigned on his Senate seniority, his reputation as a crime fighter and his influence in obtaining federal money for the state, which included funding for the $1.2-billion project that made the Arkansas River a navigable waterway.

$1-Billion Authorization Measure

Senate Skirts War Issue, Votes State Dept.-USIA Bill

By Spencer Rich

WASHINGTON, May 31 (WP).—The Senate, by a 76-to-1 vote, passed a $1-billion authorization bill for the State Department and the United States Information Agency yesterday.

Before passing the bill, which now goes to conference with the House, the Senate put aside the end-of-the-war issue for consideration in the foreign military assistance bill which is expected to reach the floor later this month.

In a series of pro-forma voice votes, it stripped from the State-USAIA authorization a group of Vietnam fund-cutoff proposals which had held up passage of the bill for weeks.

Backers of the fund cutoff are uniting behind an amendment sponsored by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D. Mont., requiring withdrawal of all U.S. ground forces from Vietnam by Aug. 31.

This amendment has already been attached to the $1.7-billion foreign military aid bill by the Foreign Relations Committee. Sen. Mansfield decided to press for a showdown on the provision when that bill comes up, instead of on the State-USAIA measure.

As passed by the Senate, the State-USAIA bill authorizes $648,354,000 for the State Department (this includes $65 million, not sought by the department, for resettlement of Jewish refugees from Russia), $200,449,000 for the USAIA, $32 million for the Arms Control Agency and $71 million in general funds and $5 million in excess foreign currencies for the Peace Corps. A House-passed bill carries identical figures for the State Department and USAIA. However, House authorizations for the Peace Corps ($38,027 million) and Arms Control Agency ($32 million) are carried in separate individual bills.

During the weeks of debate on the measure, the Senate stripped from the bill a number of key provisions inserted by the Foreign Relations Committee.

These included a requirement for a 10 percent overseas personnel cutback, a shift of the seismic research program to detect underground tests from the Defense Department to the Arms Control Agency, and a ban on providing other governments with propaganda materials.

Left in, however, were a ban on the use of USAIA propaganda materials within the United States, except for sale of the scholarly magazine "Problems of Communism"; a new mandatory grievance system for the State Department employees and a proposal for a Little Hoover Commission study of foreign policy agencies.

Sen. Frank Church, D. Idaho, one sponsor of a provision requiring U.S. troop withdrawal from Indochina within four months after release of prisoners of war, joined in supporting an amendment to remove the issue from the bill.

The Senate, he said, will have an opportunity to debate the issue again. He said the Senate vote adopting an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D. W. Va., adding a requirement for agreement on an internationally supervised cease-fire prior to troop withdrawal, had made the original end-of-the-war proposal by Sen. Church and Sen. Clifford P. Case, R. N. J., "unacceptable to the sponsors."

Blast Kills 5 Children At N.C. Bomb Shelter

VALEDESE, N.C., May 31 (UPI).—An explosion ripped apart a backyard bomb shelter in this western North Carolina hamlet yesterday, killing five children and injuring another.

Authorities, assuming that a gas leak caused the blast, which hurled bodies 50 feet, sealed off the area to traffic.

A sister-in-law of the shelter's owner said it had been built during the Korean War and had been checked periodically.

The coffin of the Duke of Windsor at RAF station at Benson, Oxfordshire, yesterday.

Obituaries

Dr. Snell, Author of Histories of Diplomacy

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., May 31 (UPI).—Prof. John I. Snell, 49, author of several studies in the diplomacy of the World War II period and holder since 1968 of a distinguished professorship in history at the University of North Carolina, died Saturday in North Carolina Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Snell was born in Plymouth, N.C., and received an AB degree at Chapel Hill in 1945, after wartime service in the Army Air Forces over Europe for which he won the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal as a first lieutenant.

After receiving his MA and PhD here, he taught at the University of Wichita and was a research scholar for the American Council of Learned Societies from 1951 to 1953.

Joining the Tulane University faculty, Dr. Snell rose to a full professorship and became dean of the graduate school before returning to Chapel Hill.

Numerous Books

He was the editor of "The Meaning of Yalta: Big Three Diplomacy and the New Balance of Power" (1956) and the author of "War-time Origins of the East-West Dilemma Over Germany" (1959). Later titles included "Illusion and Necessity: The Diplomacy of Global War, 1939-1945" (1963) and "Critical Issues in History" (1967).

Dr. Snell was official commentator at an American Historical Association meeting in 1965 at which papers on the role of Pope Pius XII in World War II were presented. He observed that the Pope had been "no admirer of the Hitler regime" but said he had been in error for not having spoken out against Hitler's program to exterminate the Jews. "Historians must grapple with the silence of Pius XII," he said.

Dr. Snell was a member of the central council of the American Historical Association and chairman of a committee on doctoral programs.

James F. Hillman

PITTSBURGH, May 31 (UPI).—James Fraser Hillman, 83, a Pittsburgh area coal operator, philanthropist and a pioneer in the field of conservation, died Friday in Presbyterian University Hospital.

As president of the Harmon Creek Coal Corp., which had extensive strip mining operations west of Pittsburgh, Mr. Hillman voluntarily began restoring strip mine pits to fertile, productive land years before state laws were passed in 1945 requiring it.

Mr. Hillman donated thousands of dollars for parks and other community projects both in Pittsburgh and in Washington County, Pennsylvania, as well as large tracts of land for park developments.

A native of Pittsburgh, Mr. Hillman had many mining operations in Washington County, and he developed forests, a park, a lake and a swimming pool for residents there.

America Aboard

NEW YORK, May 31 (UPI).—America Aboard, 76, who retired five years ago as vice-president and general foreign manager of Universal International Pictures, died Friday at his home here.

Mr. Aboaf headed world sales of Universal International films from 1950 until his retirement.

He was general manager in France and supervisor of the Middle East for Paramount Pictures from 1926 to 1939.

Roberto Rey

MADRID, May 31 (UPI).—Roberto Rey, 68, a former matinee idol who became one of Spain's outstanding serious stage and film actors, died Tuesday night of a heart ailment.

Mr. Rey was born in Valparaíso, Chile, and came to Spain at the age of seven. He won early fame as a singer and comic actor in zarzuelas (operettas) and musicals.

Mr. Rey starred in dozens of Spanish movies and played supporting roles in Hollywood, in pre-war Berlin and in French productions. His American movies included "Penny People" and "The Gondolier Prince."

One of Mr. Rey's greatest stage roles, which he played innumerable times, was the Barber of Seville.

William Tocco

GROSSE POINTE, Mich., May 31 (UPI).—William (Black Bill) Tocco, 75, who was named in 1963 U.S. Senate testimony as one of five reputed "dons" in the ruling council of the Detroit Mafia, died here Monday after a long illness.

Although Mr. Tocco was arrested several times on charges ranging from murder to tax evasion, he was never convicted of any crime.

In 1912 he came to the United States from a small fishing village near Terrasini, Sicily, where he was born.

During the 1920s and 1930s, Mr. Tocco, along with Joseph Zerilli and Angelo Melli, fought his way to the top of Detroit's underworld in a series of gang wars.

Theodore Levine

NEW YORK, May 31 (UPI).—Theodore Levine, 53, a copy editor on The New York Times foreign desk and a former news editor of the New York World-Telegram and the Sun, died yesterday in a veterans hospital of a brain tumor.

Mr. Levine was born in Perth Amboy, N.J., and entered the American University in Cairo, where his late brother-in-law, Joseph Levy, was a Times correspondent. Three years later, he graduated with a degree in journalism and took a job with the Egyptian Gazette, an English-language newspaper.

After World War II, during which he was with the Army Counterintelligence Corps, Mr. Levine joined the Newark Star-Ledger as a copy editor. Then, in 1948, he moved to the World-Telegram, starting as a copy editor and working his way up to news editor, a post he held until the newspaper ceased publication in 1966.

He also was with the World-Telegram's successor, the World Journal Tribune, in 1966-67, as associate Sunday editor, before joining The Times in 1967.

Queen Represser

The Duke of Kent, of the Duke of Windsor wife represented the There were representat government, the milita and the diplomatic co person of French A Geoffrey de Courcel.

Three clergymen in robes preceded the caed in the duke's scarlet personal standard, church for the brief service attended by th reception party.

There was only o offering—a solitary red cross—and this was the coffin after the se it was from the I Windsor.

Prof. Katzir, Israeli Scientist Among Tel Aviv Airport

TEL AVIV, May 31 (UPI).—Prof. Aharon Katzir, 68, an Israeli biophysicist who gained worldwide recognition for researching the application of large molecules to technological processes, died in the submarine gun and grenade attack on Lydda International Airport.

Prof. Katzir, who headed the Polymers Department at the Weizmann Institute of Science, immigrated to Israel in 1925.

A member of his department, Prof. Heinrich Eisenberg, said, "Aharon Katzir was one of the leading figures in Israel and the entire world and in the biological sciences and in the scientific and technological application of large molecules (polymers)."

Active in the research of sever-

Washington Eases Law Involving Homosexuals

WASHINGTON, May 31 (Reuters).—Homosexuals in Washington learned today that acts between consenting adults in private will no longer be subject to criminal prosecution.

Under an agreement with the American Civil Liberties Union, the city government has filed a stipulation in the U.S. District Court stating that the District of Columbia Sodomy Act "does not apply to private consensual acts involving adults" (defined as people of 16 and over).

Parts of Washington, with its shifting population of congressional, government and embassy employees, have long had the reputation of being among the main homosexual areas in the United States.

Police refused to estimate the homosexual population of Washington but civil liberty and homosexual organizations estimated there were about 50,000 in a city population of 900,000.

Pan Am Extortionist, A Teen-Ager, Arrested

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP).—A teen-ager who demanded $800,000 from Pan American World Airways in exchange for telling the airline where he allegedly placed explosives has been arrested as he waited for the payoff.

The FBI said, Rodney James Williams, 18, was picked up last night in a recent let near his home and charged with extortion. No explosives were found.

Williams could receive 30 years in prison and a $10,000 fine if convicted, the FBI said.

Russia Build Modified Class Of Missile Sub

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UPI).—The Soviet Union has building what appears to be first of a modified class of missile submarines, carrying fewer but longer missiles than the current fleet.

The new submarines carry 12 of the new SS-9 missiles. Under the U.S. nuclear arms accord the be used to replace an ex number of older land based missiles.

The Y-class subs are equivalent in performance earliest models of the U.S. submarines, and it had been expected that the Russian eventually take steps to them.

The U.S. fleet of 41 missile submarines—include models of Polaris and the missile-range, multiple war carrying Poseidon missile judged to be far superior, current Soviet counterpart

INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITIES

Foreign travel in a key role Financial Management
INTERNAL AUDITOR

This is an important management appointment in the service of a well-known international group. It offers valuable financial experience as well as clearly planned subsequent progression to other appointments within the central management team. Based in London the successful candidate will spend initially up to two-thirds of his time visiting operations units in Africa and the Middle East. Apart from auditing he will also evaluate local financial systems, controls and reporting procedures, developing them in the light of profit and other business objectives. The position should appeal to a young Chartered Accountant with at least seven years' auditing experience since entering the profession, preferably including auditing in large international companies. Good French is essential and familiarity with French accountancy practice would be an advantage. SALARY: £4,000 p.a.

Applications in strict confidence under reference 3216, to:
G. N. Brown, Mervyn Hughes Associates Limited, Executive Recruitment Consultants, Trent House, 39, St. Mary Axe, London EC3A 3AE. Telephone 01-253 0637.

Poclain

We are the world leaders in hydraulic excavators and we are engaging responsible for the sale and promotion of our equipment in one or many countries.

COMMERCIAL DELEGATES

- If you have 3-5 years' experience in capital goods and if you want to join an international organization in continuous expansion.
- If apart from French and English, you also speak Swedish, Dutch or German.
- If you are willing to travel frequently.

Write in French to: DIRECTION DU PERSONNEL POCLAIN S.A. 60-1a Plessis-Bellerville, France.

AMERICAN FINANCIAL EXECUTIVE

Extensive U.S. and European public accounting experience in auditing, acquisitions, tax planning, consolidations, budgetary controls and other aspects of international operations.

CPA/MBA, fluent French. Seeks new position in Europe. Box D 3272, Herald, Paris.

FIELD MANAGER

Engineer, high general background, worldwide experience (U.S.A., Europe, S. America, Africa, petroleum industry). Speaks English, French, Spanish, German. Seeks managerial position, prefer Europe. Box D 3271, Herald, Paris.

IT CAN BE DIFFICULT! TO MAKE THE RIGHT CONTACT FOR A NEW CAREER OPPORTUNITY

However, by placing an "Executives Available" Ad in the Tribune, you will be in contact with over 50,000 other international executives. One of them might need a man with your qualifications.

* 72.6% of our Business Readers are Businessmen at the Executive level.

Contact our Representative in your country or write directly to:

Mr. Max Ferrero, International Herald Tribune, 21 Rue de Berri, Paris-8e. Tel.: 225-28-90. Tx.: 25509.

A newly formed and solidly backed company in the communications field is looking for

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Age: 35-45
Nationality: Unimportant
Languages: Fluency in English and at least one other major European language
Qualifications and Experience: Preferably a university graduate in a recognized discipline, but this is not mandatory since we are as interested in entrepreneurial abilities as in academic qualifications. Experience in the communications industry is preferable. But experience in any sector must have been comprehensive enough for the man likely chosen to set up an organization, hire and motivate sales personnel, design and implement research programs, plan and achieve sales budgets, and establish management and control systems as required. Thus a consistently successful sales record, an ability to manage people, and work with outside advisers, are important components of this man's experience.

Location: London.
Salary: The total compensation package is very attractive. Please send a detailed curriculum vitae and one photograph, in an envelope marked confidential, to the attention of: Mr. E. Philipp, Peter Masson and Partners Limited, European Marketing and Media Consultants, 216 Avenue Louise, 1050 Brussels.

SALES MANAGER AUTOMOTIVE

Major U.S. corporation needs a sales manager for its European automotive products division headquartered in North Italy. We are looking for a promotable young sales executive who has performed well in middle management positions and who is ready to take on the top sales spot, reporting directly to the division manager. Responsibility includes the expansion of a strong replacement parts distribution network in Europe, the Middle East and Africa, plus O.E.M. sales throughout Europe. This will be done through a staff which the sales manager will hire and supervise.

Candidates should have a minimum of five years' experience in the industry, preferably in replacement field sales. Language fluency is required in English, French and German. Italian is desirable. Top salary will be paid.

Please reply in confidence with curriculum vitae to:
Box D-3277, Herald Tribune, Paris.

THE FOOD AND AGRICULTURE ORGANIZATION OF THE UNITED NATIONS has an opening in Rome, Italy, for a TECHNICAL OFFICER

Environmental Studies

A specialist is needed to evaluate and disseminate information in the industry, preferably in replacement field sales. Language fluency is required in English, French and German. Italian is desirable. Top salary will be paid.

Please apply with details to:
Central Recruitment, F.A.O., Viale delle Terme di Caracalla, 00100-Rome.

Wally E Findlay Galleries International new art - design - plus book - studio
2, av. Maignon - Paris 6^e

"Football Americain" DOUTRELEAU
20 Pointings - in honor of the Semaine Sportive Americaine a Paris, for the benefit of the American Hospital
May 26-June 7
European Masters
Impressionists
Post-Impressionists Contemporaries
Tel.: 225-70-74
Mon. thru Sat., 10 a.m.-7 p.m.

Pan Am Extortionist, A Teen-Ager, Arrested
NEW YORK, May 31 (AP).—A teen-ager who demanded $800,000 from Pan American World Airways in exchange for telling the airline where he allegedly placed explosives has been arrested as he waited for the payoff.

Russia Build Modified Class Of Missile Sub
WASHINGTON, May 31 (UPI).—The Soviet Union has building what appears to be first of a modified class of missile submarines, carrying fewer but longer missiles than the current fleet.

Duke's Return approved Simple Prompts
Will Suit by U.S.
Burial in Workers' Refund
Firm Is Asked

WASHINGTON, May 31 (NYT).—The Duke of Edinburgh, who was in the U.S. today, will be buried in the U.S. after his death.

The Duke of Edinburgh, who was in the U.S. today, will be buried in the U.S. after his death.

The Duke of Edinburgh, who was in the U.S. today, will be buried in the U.S. after his death.

The Duke of Edinburgh, who was in the U.S. today, will be buried in the U.S. after his death.

HONORED—Pope Paul yesterday presented the Order of St. Gregory the Great to fireman Marco Ottaggio, 29, who overpowered the man who damaged the "Pietà."

CAB Wins Injunction to Bar Trips by British Charter Line

By Robert Lindsey

NEW YORK, May 31 (NYT).—The United States for the first time yesterday won a court injunction to halt flights of a foreign airline, in a move that the government said would go far to curb a rampant New York-based black market in illegal charter flight tickets to Europe.

The injunction, issued here by U.S. Judge Milton Pollack, upheld a right claimed by the Civil Aeronautics Board to prohibit transatlantic charter flights by British airline's Donalson International Airways unless approved by the board 25 days in advance of the flight.

The CAB contends that the British airline has been one of the most flagrant operators of the black market.

Shipworkers Win Pay Rise in Spain

VIGO, Spain, May 31 (UPI).—An estimated 3,000 shipyard workers returned to work from a strike today after winning a 34 percent raise in their base pay and freedom for several among 15 of their colleagues arrested by police.

The workers were locked out from the Barroo shipyards last week in a dispute over renewal of their work contracts and refused to return to their jobs when the factory gates were reopened Monday.

Vatican Extends New Procedures On Annulments

VATICAN CITY, May 31 (AP).—Pope Paul VI today decreed new rules to make the annulment of "nonconsummated" marriages of Roman Catholic couples speedier and less expensive.

The new rules will go into effect in July and give local bishops greater authority in handling these cases. However, the Pope reserved to himself the ultimate decision of whether to grant the annulments.

The new rules are now extended to all Roman Catholics around the world. They already have been in effect on a test basis for some time in several nations such as the United States, Canada, and Germany.

Cases of nonconsummated marriages, unlike all other annulments, are not decided in the Vatican's Sacred Rota tribunal or lower diocesan courts. They are handled as "administrative cases." They are relatively few—an average of one out of 10,000 couples married in the church.

Police Reject Arson In London Hotel Fire

LONDON, May 31.—Detectives and forensic scientists decided yesterday that a fire at the London Ambassador Hotel, on Monday night, when 50 guests fled to safety, was not deliberately set.

A squad of detectives was assigned to investigate the fire after 40 firemen had put out flames that spread through four floors. The hotel is less than 100 yards from the Plaza Hotel, which was damaged by fire three weeks ago.

To Reduce U.S. Environmental Damage

Senate Votes Curb on Harmful Chemicals

By Victor Cohn

WASHINGTON, May 31 (WP).—A bill to try to keep poisonous chemicals from going on the market and into the environment was passed without opposition by the U.S. Senate yesterday.

If an equally strong measure is passed by the House of Representatives, it would mean government scrutiny of as many as 300 to 500 new home and industrial chemicals every year—all those not covered by food, drug and pesticide laws.

In the last three years, government officials and the American public have been hit with the news that:

• The mercury in scores of consumer products—batteries, thermometers, newsprint—gets into the environment to make fish dangerous to eat.

• A class of industrial chemicals called PCBs have found their way into fish meal used as chicken feed, thence into chickens.

• The lead in gasoline is pervading roadside dust as well as the air.

• Phosphates in detergents seriously contribute to overgrowth of algae and plants in rivers and lakes, helping to choke off other life.

None of these effects was foreseen and environmentalists have been trying to find a way to pre-screen chemicals to prevent such disasters.

The result was a bill backed by Sen. William B. Spong Jr., D., Va., Sen. Philip A. Hart, D.,

Mich., and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D., Wash., to give the government's Environmental Protection Agency the pre-screening power.

The Senate first voted down two tries by Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R., Tenn., to modify the bill. Sen. Baker expressed the view of most major chemical firms in calling the bill "unworkable" but finally joined in voting for it.

Sen. Spong praised Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R., Ky., for adding a clause to the bill to broaden the Coast Guard's power to control barges and other craft carrying materials such as chlorine gas in rivers and harbors.

Sen. Cook had said that the bottom of the Ohio River at Louisville, Ky., has so many sunken barges "it's like the bottom of the harbor at Pearl Harbor."

The bill's main clauses would give the government authority to make chemical firms test new compounds by federal safety standards; to scrutinize the firms' test reports; to restrict distribution or use of any compounds deemed harmful, but to exempt some chemicals "generally regarded as safe" from testing.

A weaker bill sponsored by the Nixon administration is among several being considered by a House of Representatives subcommittee.

Dancer Panov In KGB Prison

MOSCOW, May 31 (AP).—One of the Soviet Union's top ballet dancers has been sentenced to jail for petty hooliganism in his latest round of troubles with authorities since he asked for papers to go to Israel.

Serving a 10-day sentence in the Leningrad KGB (secret police) prison called the Bolshoi Dom, or "Big House," was Valery Panov, a soloist with the Kirov ballet company until his decision to emigrate. Mr. Panov is a Jew.

His friends said the trial took place Monday. A police magistrate found the dancer guilty of having spat at someone on the street. Mr. Panov's friends say the charge was fabricated.

The more you know about horseracing, the more you like Longchamp.

The more you know about Scotch, the more you like Ballantine's

Imported from Scotland

Dresdner Bank. From June 1st, 1972 in Singapore, 138, Robinson Road

Dresdner Bank—your new financial centre in the centre of South-East Asia: Singapore.

Dresdner Bank, a leading West German bank is equipped with all facilities for your international transactions.

Dresdner Bank has more than 800 branches in West-Germany as well as representative offices and subsidiaries all over the world.

Dresdner Bank

Efficient in every respect

Marshall Islanders Return Geop Craters in A-Test Area

NAJALEIN, Marshall Islands, 31 (Reuters).—Natives of Eniwetok recently returned to the atoll for the first time in years—and found that three islands had been obliterated by U.S. nuclear tests.

A small boat carrying a survey team sailed over the area where islands once existed, and nothing but two deep craters remained.

The United States agreed last month to return Eniwetok and Bikini atolls—in the northwestern Marshall Islands, about 1,000 miles southwest of Guam—to the islanders by the end of next year, ending nearly three decades of military control.

The atolls were used between 1946 and 1958 as the testing ground for more than 30 nuclear explosions, including the first hydrogen bomb, in 1952.

More recently, they have been used as an impact area for test missiles launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, in California.

With the end of military use, Bikini and Eniwetok will become part of the Pacific trust territory that the United States has been administering under a United Nations mandate.

The territory is about to gain semi-independent status.

First back into the area was a survey team of the Atomic Energy Commission, which reported several potentially "troublesome areas" of radioactivity.

Shortly afterward, a group of trust territory government officials and Marshall Island leaders made a three-day survey of the atoll area to prepare for the islanders' return.

The biggest shock was the drastic change in geography caused by the nuclear blasts.

Some Benefit

Other changes brought about by the military presence, however, will be of some benefit to the people. A variety of buildings, docks, wharves and a major airfield capable of handling jet traffic remain.

Three lawyers representing the displaced islanders accompanied the survey team and questioned trust territory government officials about their rehabilitation plans.

Deputy high commissioner Peter Coleman said that the purpose of the survey was to determine the rehabilitation program that will be undertaken prior to the people's return.

They must decide what they want done with the coral island, the facilities they want to keep and the type of agricultural programs they want to institute, he said.

Bonn-Cairo Ties

BONN, May 31 (AP).—The West German Foreign Ministry said today that Bonn and Cairo would soon resume diplomatic relations.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said talks between the two governments now were in progress in Cairo. He confirmed Egyptian press reports that an agreement was imminent.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

LAST DAY—Peter Kavanagh, 26, sipping a cup of tea yesterday, the 16th and final day of his protest camp in 120 feet up in his crane cab at a London construction site. He was demonstrating against the loss of his job when a subcontracting firm went broke and the main contractors let him go. A court order to end his trespassing was read to him by loud-hailer Tuesday and posted on his crane. He decided to come down yesterday afternoon.

NATO Chief in Naples Retires

NAPLES, May 31 (AP).—U.S. Adm. Horacio Rivero relinquished command of NATO's Southern European Forces today with a warning against the "ominous growth of the Soviet Union's power and influence in the Mediterranean." He branded the Soviets "potential aggressors."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

"It is clear," he said, "that the Soviets have one aim, and that aim is to achieve such an overwhelming degree of superiority in all aspects of military strength that our countries could be intimidated and could be forced to submit to their political demands."

In a colorful ceremony at the Southern Forces headquarters here, Adm. Rivero turned over command to Adm. Richard G. Colbert, 57, transferred from Norfolk, Va., where he served as chief of staff to the supreme allied commander Atlantic.

Adm. Rivero, 62, a native of Puerto Rico, simultaneously retired from the Navy after a 41-year career.

He said he looked with "apprehension at the presence of the powerful Soviet Mediterranean fleet."

Angela Davis Judge Holds Jacksons' Father in Contempt

SAN JOSE, Calif., May 31 (UPI).—The father of the late "Solead Brother" George Jackson was held in contempt of court and fined $100 here yesterday after he refused to testify for the state in the murder, conspiracy and kidnapping trial of Angela Davis.

His voice choked with emotion, Lester Jackson Jr., a letter carrier in Pasadena, told the court: "I had only two sons. I just don't want to take part in this proceeding, for the preservation of my mental health."

Mr. Jackson's lawyer, Jack Teuner of Los Angeles, complained that it was legally impermissible and "morally outrageous" for the prosecution to subpoena a man in a case concerning his two dead sons.

The younger Jackson son, Jonathan, was killed during a courtroom shootout on Aug. 7, 1970, at the Marin County courthouse north of San Francisco.

The state attorney general's office alleges that he and Miss Davis were part of a conspiracy to kidnap hostages that day to obtain freedom for George Jackson, John Cluchette and Fleeta Drumgo, who had been charged with the murder of a prison guard at Soledad State Prison.

George Jackson was killed last summer while allegedly trying to escape from the penitentiary at San Quentin.

Assistant Attorney General Albert Harris Jr. asked the elder Jackson only one question yesterday—whether he had driven his wife and son Jonathan to the Los Angeles airport on Aug. 1, 1970.

Superior Court Judge Richard Aronson, who could have sent Mr. Jackson to jail for the duration of Miss Davis's trial, told him: "I understand full well the trauma you have been through."

But he said he was imposing a fine because Mr. Jackson had no "lawful excuse" for refusing to testify.

Final prosecution and defense arguments in the Davis trial are scheduled to begin in the next session.

Rhodesia Asks U.K. to Withdraw Its Lone Aide

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, May 31 (UPI).—The British government has been asked to withdraw Alec Ward, its caretaker diplomatic representative in Salisbury, Prime Minister Ian Smith's office said today.

A statement said this followed Britain's refusal to allow a Rhodesian diplomatic representative reciprocal facilities in London.

Rhodesia made the request earlier this month, after Britain's Foreign Commission reported that the November proposals for settling the six-year-old independence dispute were unacceptable to the people of Rhodesia as a whole.

UN Head Welcomes Accords in Moscow

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 31 (Reuters).—Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim of the United Nations yesterday welcomed what he termed progress achieved in Moscow by the leaders of the Soviet Union and the United States in several areas concerning the UN.

In a statement read by a spokesman, Mr. Waldheim said: "I note with satisfaction the statement of determination to strengthen the effectiveness of the United Nations, the reaffirmation of support for the United Nations' efforts towards a peaceful settlement in the Middle East... and the progress achieved in the field of disarmament."

Leftist Fugitive In Germany Asks Anti-U.S. Attacks

BONN, May 31 (UPI).—As thousands of police throughout the nation hunted for her tonight, more than 1,000 students in Frankfurt heard the recorded voice of anarchist leader Ulrike Meinhoff urge them to attack "all American establishments."

Her address from a tape recorder in Frankfurt University was interrupted several times by applause, boos, and by shouts from Daniel Cohn-Bendit, one of the leaders of the 1968 Paris student revolt.

Ulrike Meinhoff, the 38-year-old former freelance journalist, who with Andreas Baader heads the "Baader/Meinhoff" group of anarchists, called on her listeners to undertake an "armed battle against the imperialist criminals."

She asked "leftist comrades" to show no more "fear and perplexity" and to hold back no longer "from making all American establishments the aim of your attacks."

War Contractor Accused of Fraud On F-111 Parts

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UPI).—The General Dynamics corporation and four present or former employees were charged yesterday with conspiracy to defraud the Air Force by passing on $300,000 worth of costs for defective parts on the F-111 fighter-bomber. General Dynamics entered a general denial of the charges.

The defective parts, manufactured by a subcontractor, were scrapped and never used, according to the Justice Department, but the cost was "passed on to the Air Force."

Under the production contract, the Air Force is required to pay only a percentage of normal waste material costs. The two-count federal indictment was returned by a grand jury in Dallas.

General Dynamics, which has manufactured about 400 models of the F-111, has its headquarters in Fort Worth. The subcontractor named in the indictment, Selb Manufacturing Co., is located in Walnut Ridge, Ark. According to the Justice Department, the Arkansas company manufactured carry-through plates, which are critical parts of the center section of the F-111 wings, and long-erons, which are main braces in the fuselage. The indictment said that an unspecified number of parts made by Selb were welded in violation of the contract.

SALE

may 29th to june 2nd from 9.30 a.m. to 12
and 2.30 p.m. to 6

GIVENCHY

3, AVENUE GEORGE-V
PARIS 8*

DIAMONDS

You can save up to 50 percent on single diamonds at wholesale prices by ordering direct from Antwerp, the world's largest cut-diamond market. Give diamonds to your lady, buy for investment, for personal use.

Write airmail for price list or write us:

Joachim Goldenstein
THE DIAMOND CLUB BLDG

62 Pelikaanstraat, Antwerp (Belgium).
Tel.: (03) 33-09-52.

Gold Medal

THE DIAMOND CLUB BLDG
ANTWERP 1958

Traditional SCOTCH with age appeal

HOUSE OF LORDS
8 years old

Do you doubt your tape recorder's fidelity?
Perhaps your tape is unfaithful

Try SONY's new
"Master Recording" SLH Tape

We took a leaf from our video tape operation and produced a tape with 2 microns of special coating and 3 major advantages.

We zapped electrostatic charge. SONY SLH (Super Low Noise Hi-Output) series tape expands frequency response, reduces modulation noise greatly, requires less hi-frequency boost while cutting down distortion. But if you're going to run a tape recorder, you're going to have friction, and that means electrostatic charge. The electro-conductive characteristics of the new backing compound prevent accumulation of the static charge... which means that microscopic gunk doesn't collect. Therefore, even fewer dropouts and longer tape life.

We scratched tape scratch. A regular tape's back surface is plastic, soft, easily scratched causing small particles of plastic to stick on recording surface. Our coating compound protects the plastic from scratching... scratches surface disturbance from tape imperfections.

We roughed up slippage. The magnetic surface of SONY SLH Tape is mirror smooth which records and plays beautifully but can cause slippage between capstan and pinch roller. A special back-coating compound prevents slippage; improves tape flow and winding performance.

Research Makes the Difference

SONY.

Hello, U.S.A.

It's an easy hop from Europe to the U.S.A... by phone.

Inexpensive too. Only 36.90 francs from France... 19 guilder from the Netherlands... 57 krone from Norway. These rates are for three-minute station-to-station calls during most daytime hours.

And low price is only part of it. Telephoning is the fast yet personal way to get things done a half a world away.

You can talk things over... get all the answers... exchange feelings as well as words.

Isn't there someone in the U.S.A. who'd like to hear your "Hello" today?

*The rates above do not include hotel or motel surcharges, if any. For rates at other times or for other types of calls, check the local operator.

Holiday Inn-The World's Innkeeper

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES

Chesebrough-Pond's Acquisition

Chesebrough-Pond's Inc. has agreed in principle to acquire Binney & Smith Inc. for stock valued at about $715 million. The agreement, subject to the approval of directors of both U.S. companies and Binney & Smith shareholders, provides for the exchange of one share of Chesebrough-Pond's common for each of the 1,000 million shares of Binney & Smith. The acquisition would result in a "small contribution" to Chesebrough-Pond's earnings, based on 1971 results, company officials estimate. Binney & Smith is a maker of art materials, including wax crayons. The news sent the share price of Binney & Smith soaring on the American Stock Exchange. It rose 18 1/8 to close at 58. On the 5th Board, Chesebrough-Pond's stock fell 1 1/8 to 69 5/8.

Rapid-American Proposes Merger

Rapid-American Corp. proposes to merge with its 75 percent-owned subsidiary Glen Alden Corp. through an exchange of about $63 million in Rapid-American common stock. The merger is subject to the approval of the Glen Alden board, the execution of a definitive agreement and the approval by the shareholders of both firms. Rapid-American also said Glen Alden would sell its textile division to a group that will be formed and headed by Paul A. Johnston, president of Glen Alden.

Australian Alumina Project Set

Four Japanese companies will participate with U.S. and European interests in an alumina project in Northwestern Australia. According to Prime Minister William McMahon, the estimated cost of the venture would be about $400 million (U.S.), of which the Japanese investment would be approximately one-third. The four companies are Showa Denko, Sumitomo Chemical, Sumitomo Shoji Kaisha and Marubeni I.D.A. American Metal Climax would put up about half of the total cost and Holland Aluminum of the Netherlands would account for about 10 percent. The project is expected to produce 1.2 million tons of alumina a year.

Matsushita Raises Sales Estimate

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. expects parent company sales in the half-year ending May 31 to surpass the company's earlier estimate of 380 billion yen (about $3.1 billion), vice-president Araturo Takahashi says. A year earlier, sales totaled 341.8 billion yen. He didn't make any prediction for net profit. However, the company has reported a 53 percent increase in consolidated net profit for the quarter ended Feb. 29 on a 27 percent sales gain. Parent company sales usually account for about 80 percent of consolidated sales, and Japanese corporate profit usually responds sharply to any substantial sales increase.

Japan Auto Export Trend Unclear

Japan's auto exports rose to 162,222 vehicles in April, a gain of 24.5 percent from a year earlier, but a decline of 8.7 percent from the previous month, the Japan Auto Manufacturers Association reports. The April exports were valued at $276 million, up 42.3 percent from April 1971, but down 5.8 percent from March. April auto production totaled 503,692 units, up 4.5 percent from a year earlier, the association says.

Largely Due to Bookkeeping Transactions

Japan's Foreign Currency Reserves Dip

TOKYO, May 31 (AP-DJ).—Japan's official reserves of gold, special drawing rights and convertible currencies totaled $16.024 billion today, down $501 million from the end of April, the Finance Ministry announced. It was the second straight monthly drop. The reserves reached a record $16.683 billion at the end of March before falling $128 million in April. Finance Ministry officials attributed both declines to a program under which authorities are depositing dollars held in the official reserves with Japanese commercial banks. The rate of interest on these deposits is slightly lower than dollar lending rates abroad and the Japanese banks are using these funds to repay dollars previously borrowed in New York or in Europe, primarily to finance trade.

Germans Fear Excess Liquidity, Plan Cutbacks

BERLIN, May 31 (AP-DJ).—The West German banking authority moved today to counteract the possible inflationary effects of next month's tax payments by reducing the funds available to commercial banks by about 4.5 billion deutsche marks (about $1.4 billion).

Bundesbank president Karl Klasen emphasized that the measures did not signal a tightening of the nation's credit policy. Rather, he said, they are connected with the mid-June repayment of nearly 8 billion DM in a surplus dating from 1970. The surplus had been part of the government's arsenal to combat inflation.

Since then the country has passed through a moderate recession, and the tax repayment aims to stimulate the economy. Today's action indicates that central bank officials are concerned lest the repayment turns out to be over-stimulative. Effective July 1, the central bank will freeze an estimated 2.2 billion DM through an 8 percent increase in the minimum reserve requirements of the nation's banks. Another 2.3 billion DM of bank liquidity will be soaked up by a 10 percent reduction in the amount of credit commercial banks can get from the central bank by lowering their discount quota.

Gold Hits Record Again in Europe

LONDON, May 31 (AP).—The price of gold set another record high in Europe's free bullion markets today but eased back slightly toward the close. The dollar eased on most foreign-exchange markets. The price of gold was fixed this morning at $59.30 an ounce and moved up to another record of $59.45 at the afternoon fixing before falling back to $59.30 at the close. In Zurich the price hit a record $59.55 before closing at $59.40.

Iraq Turns Down IPC Offer, Sets Ultimatum

BEIRUT, May 31 (AP).—Iraq rejected an offer from the western-owned Iraq Petroleum Co. (IPC) today and gave the company 12 hours to come up with a new one or face the consequences, Baghdad radio said. The radio said the offer, presented by IPC managing director Geoffrey Stockwell at a two-hour meeting in Baghdad, was rejected because it repeated the company's demands of compensation for concessions taken over by the Iraqi government.

OPEC Sets Talks VIENNA, May 31 (AP-DJ).—The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) disclosed today that it will hold a special meeting in Beirut on June 9 to discuss the dispute between the Iraqi government and Iraq Petroleum Co. (IPC).

Now - Direct by Air

The Value Line Investment Survey The Value Line Convertible Survey The Value Line Special Situations Service

Writer: Arnold Bankard & Co., Inc. 1211 Geneva & Co., Inc. 1211 Geneva & Co., Inc.

Ford Problem With EPA Said Wider

Emission Test Woes Now Hit 1972 Models

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP-DJ).—Ford Motor Co.'s troubles with the government over the auto maker's emission-testing practices may get worse before they get better. That appears evident from these new developments:

● The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), already considering whether to request Justice Department action against Ford because the company failed to report certain maintenance done during testing of 1973-model prototype vehicles, has discovered similar maintenance was done on at least some 1972 prototypes as well.

● The EPA's soon-to-be-announced plan for letting Ford ship 1972 cars to dealers before a return of emission tests is completed probably will prevent dealers from taking title to cars until the EPA actually grants certification.

Ford, thus, would face the need to finance the cars itself during the waiting period, as well as the possibility of delayed sales to the public this fall. "It's going to cost Ford a bundle," predicts one EPA official who has been working on the plan.

(Henry Ford 2d, Ford chairman, admitted today that there were "minor discrepancies" in the company's testing work last year on the emissions control systems of 1972-model cars.)

(Mr. Ford, in a speech to a Washington conference on transportation and the environment, said, however, that the company's 1972 models do meet emission standards.)

A determination that Ford did not improperly in obtaining certification for the 1972 prototypes could place the company in an even tighter spot than it is as a result of its 1973-model prototype test difficulties.

Because the prototypes stand for assembly-line cars in the same engine family, tens of thousands of Ford vehicles may have been shipped without valid certification that they meet pollution standards for exhaust emissions.

The EPA plan to let Ford ship uncertified 1973 cars is designed to prevent layoffs of workers at assembly plants that lack space to store new vehicles. Technically, the prototype runs can be completed in 90 to 120 days, a time span that would require Ford to finance about two months' production but allow it to introduce its new models about as scheduled in mid-September.

However, based on unforeseen breakdowns that have plagued other prototype tests, EPA staff officials say it is more realistic to expect testing of at least one or two of the prototypes to require as much as 150 days.

One Dollar—

LONDON (AP-DJ).—The late or closing interbank rates for the dollar on the major international exchanges:

	Today	Previous
Berlin (S per $)	2.125	2.125
Berlin (L per $)	43.89-91	43.82-84
Belg. fr. (G)	43.86-90	43.81-83
Deutsche mark	3.1758	3.1755
Danish krona	6.9355-59	6.9260-58
Escudo	26.86-27.01	26.95-27.0
Fr. fr. (A)	4.8375-8025	4.875-88
Fr. fr. (B)	5.001-002	5.006-07
Guinea	3.2657-67	3.2698-3107
Israeli pound	4.26	4.26
Liara	681.55-58	681.68-75
Franc	64.85105-825	64.85-555
Schilling	23.97-99	23.98-10
Sw. krona	4.7335-45	4.7345-50
Swiss franc	3.8400-10	3.8360-10
Yen	304.55	304.95

Tokyo Capital Holdings N.V.

on 29-5-72 was U.S. $30.46

Listed on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange

Information: Pierson, Haidring & Pierson Huisweg 214, Amsterdam

FONSELEX

A Swiss fund quoted in Swiss francs

31 Jan. 1966 issue price S.Fr. 1,040 (inception)
3 June 1968 issue price S.Fr. 2,008
29 May 1972 issue price S.Fr. 3,015

For more detailed informations please write to:

CAPDIREX S.A.

Capdirex S.A., 15 Rue Marignac, Geneva, Switzerland.

Name

Address

Not valid for individual French Residents.

Stocks Plunge on Profit-Taking

By Vartan G. Vartan

NEW YORK, May 31 (NYT).—Stock prices broke sharply today as glamor issues—notably weak yesterday—led issues on the New York Stock Exchange downward. A combination of profit-taking and nervous selling on the heels of a three-week advance was cited by Wall Street analysts in explaining the pullback.

Another unsettling factor was the action of General Motors, the world's largest industrial company, whose stock sold at a 1972 low despite buoyant new-car sales and projections for higher profits this year.

Giant GM closed at 75 7/8, off 3/4, after trading as low as 75 3/8.

Dow Drops by 10 In Slow Trading

There was some conjecture in the financial community that Ford Motor's problems with emission-testing practices might spread to GM but one analyst termed this "a false reaction."

The Dow Jones industrial average plunged 10.45 to 960.73, this marked the biggest drop since May 9, when the Dow dropped 12.72 in its initial response to the mining of North Vietnamese ports by the United States.

Despite today's decline, the market managed to overcome one nemesis. The Dow industrials finished May with a net gain of 6.55 for the month. In recent years, the Dow invariably has suffered a sinking spell during May.

Advocates of the profit-taking school noted that in the previous three weeks the Dow boomed ahead more than 45 and is credited now to some consolidation. Sending prices higher during that period were expectations for the Moscow summit meeting and, on the home front, a notable improvement in leading economic indicators.

Rounding out the Big Three automakers, Ford slipped 3 1/4 to 68 3/4 and Chrysler eased 3/8 to 31 5/8.

What Is a Name Worth? Plenty, If It's Von Braun

NEW YORK (AP-DJ).—What's in a name? In the case of Werner von Braun, the rocket expert—plenty. An announcement that he had resigned as deputy associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to join Fairchild Industries as a corporate vice-president sent Fairchild's stock about 30 percent higher on big volume.

"It's a low-priced stock with a story, and that's what people are looking for in this kind of market," says one enthusiastic broker.

But at least a few Wall Streeters think the run-up is another example of excessive investor optimism. For example, Merrill Lynch pulled its "buy" recommendation on the stock yesterday. And Argus Research Corp. says it would not be a buyer. Among other things, both projects lower 1972 earnings, following a first-quarter showing in which per-share net income plunged nearly 50 percent.

Joseph Dugan, Fairchild's treasurer, also ascribes the stock's rise largely to the Von Braun news. Adds the official: "We also think the stock is undervalued."

Lower Earnings Predicted

In the first period, the company's net income plummeted to 17 cents a share from 33 cents a year earlier. But Mr. Dugan sees a pickup in the second period. And for the first half, he sees net income slightly less than the year-ago's 72 cents a share.

Analysts generally expected lower earnings for all 1972, with the range, on a fully diluted basis, of $1.10 to $1.20, compared to $1.25 in 1971.

Mr. Dugan will not make any specific earnings forecast, but he does say profit for the year will be affected by start-up costs involved in the acquisition last February of the assets of a commercial aircraft maker.

Merrill Lynch says it regards the shares as "adequately priced" and it no longer suggests their purchase. It does, however, think the stock can be retained in medium and long-term accounts.

"I wouldn't be a buyer of the stock," says Paul Bordwell, Argus Research's specialist on the aerospace field. He believes the market—based on the stock's rise—is betting that Fairchild will get a bigger piece of the space business. But Mr. Bordwell does not think the appointment of the rocket expert will affect the current Fairchild involvement in that sector. In fact, he does not see any impact until 1974 or 1975, at the earliest.

Some analysts talk of the company's potential in the space sector. But as one skeptic puts it: "Why put your money down on maybes . . . which may be nothing?"

Company Report

Rapid-American

First Quarter 1972 *1971
Revenue (millions) .. 515.6 457.3
Profits (millions) .. 3.11 1.17
Per Share (Diluted) .. 0.22 —0.03
* Restated.

infini
new perfume

CARON-paris

The famous makers of Fleurs de Rocaille and Bellodgia

International Bancorp Limited

Notice of payment of interest to holders of Certificates of Participation in International Bancorp Limited — 7% Debentures due 1979.

Notice is hereby given to holders of Certificates of Participation in International Bancorp Limited 7% Debentures due 1979, that interest for the period from and after October 1, 1971, to 30th June, 1972, will be payable on and from 30th June, 1972, against presentation of coupon number one.

Interest will be paid to bearer by cheque drawn on Overseas Development Bank Luxembourg S.A., on presentation of coupon number one.

Certificate holders should complete the docket at the foot of this notice and deliver or send it together with coupons numbered one, to: Overseas Development Bank, Share Registrar Department, 99 Aldwych, London W.C.2B 4LS, England, 30th May, 1972.

Overseas Development Bank (Bahamas) Limited, Trustees.

TO: Overseas Development Bank
Share Registrar Department
99 Aldwych, London, WC2B 4LS, England.

Sirs:
I/We enclose coupons No. 1 of International Bancorp Limited Certificates of Participation in 7% Debentures due 1979 having a total face value equal to $.....
Please have International Bancorp Limited make its cheque payable to:

Name:

Address:

* Please state total number of individual coupons enclosed.

-1972- Stocks and $B. Net					-1972- Stocks and $B. Net					-1972- Stocks and $B. Net
High.	Low.	Div. in $	100% First.	High Low Last. Chge	High.	Low.	Div. in $	100% First.	High Low Last. Chge	High.	Low.	Div. in $	100% First.	High Low Last. Chge
144.36	36	GamS	of 1.73	7 39 39	30% 354-14	34%	22%	JHmin	1.80	4 27% 27% 39

NEW ISSUES
All of these securities having been sold, this announcement appears as a matter of record only.
Fruehauf Finance Company
$25,000,000
7.60% Debentures due May 15, 1984
$25,000,000
7% Notes due November 15, 1979
Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated

Blyth & Co., Inc.	The First Boston Corporation	Drexel Firestone Incorporated	duPont Glore Forgan Incorporated
Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Co. Incorporated	Goldman, Sachs & Co.	Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc.
Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes	Kidder, Peabody & Co. Incorporated	Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
Lazard Frères & Co.	Loeb, Rhoades & Co.	Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis Incorporated
Salomon Brothers	Smith, Barney & Co. Incorporated	Stone & Webster Securities Corporation
Wertheim & Co., Inc.	White, Weld & Co. Incorporated	Dean Witter & Co. Incorporated	Bache & Co. Incorporated
E. F. Hutton & Company Inc.	Reynolds Securities Inc.	Shearson, Hammill & Co. Incorporated
Bear, Stearns & Co.	Burnham & Company Inc.	CBWL-Hayden, Stone Inc. Clark, Dodge & Co. Incorporated
Dain, Kalman & Quail Incorporated	Dominick & Dominick, Incorporated	Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc. Incorporated
W. E. Hutton & Co.	Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.	McDonald & Company	F. S. Mosley & Co.
The Robinson-Humphrey Company, Inc.	Roosevelt & Son Incorporated	L. F. Rothschild & Co.
Shields & Company Incorporated	G. H. Walker & Co. Incorporated	Walston & Co., Inc.	Wood, Struthers & Winthrop Inc. Incorporated

39% 17% EBRAC 1.2 40% 18% EBRAC 1.2 41% 19% EBRAC 1.2 42% 20% EBRAC 1.2 43% 21% EBRAC 1.2 44% 22% EBRAC 1.2 45% 23% EBRAC 1.2 46% 24% EBRAC 1.2 47% 25% EBRAC 1.2 48% 26% EBRAC 1.2 49% 27% EBRAC 1.2 50% 28% EBRAC 1.2 51% 29% EBRAC 1.2 52% 30% EBRAC 1.2 53% 31% EBRAC 1.2 54% 32% EBRAC 1.2 55% 33% EBRAC 1.2 56% 34% EBRAC 1.2 57% 35% EBRAC 1.2 58% 36% EBRAC 1.2 59% 37% EBRAC 1.2 60% 38% EBRAC 1.2 61% 39% EBRAC 1.2 62% 40% EBRAC 1.2 63% 41% EBRAC 1.2 64% 42% EBRAC 1.2 65% 43% EBRAC 1.2 66% 44% EBRAC 1.2 67% 45% EBRAC 1.2 68% 46% EBRAC 1.2 69% 47% EBRAC 1.2 70% 48% EBRAC 1.2 71% 49% EBRAC 1.2 72% 50% EBRAC 1.2 73% 51% EBRAC 1.2 74% 52% EBRAC 1.2 75% 53% EBRAC 1.2 76% 54% EBRAC 1.2 77% 55% EBRAC 1.2 78% 56% EBRAC 1.2 79% 57% EBRAC 1.2 80% 58% EBRAC 1.2 81% 59% EBRAC 1.2 82% 60% EBRAC 1.2 83% 61% EBRAC 1.2 84% 62% EBRAC 1.2 85% 63% EBRAC 1.2 86% 64% EBRAC 1.2 87% 65% EBRAC 1.2 88% 66% EBRAC 1.2 89% 67% EBRAC 1.2 90% 68% EBRAC 1.2 91% 69% EBRAC 1.2 92% 70% EBRAC 1.2 93% 71% EBRAC 1.2 94% 72% EBRAC 1.2 95% 73% EBRAC 1.2 96% 74% EBRAC 1.2 97% 75% EBRAC 1.2 98% 76% EBRAC 1.2 99% 77% EBRAC 1.2 100% 78% EBRAC 1.2	101% 79% EBRAC 1.2 102% 80% EBRAC 1.2 103% 81% EBRAC 1.2 104% 82% EBRAC 1.2 105% 83% EBRAC 1.2 106% 84% EBRAC 1.2 107% 85% EBRAC 1.2 108% 86% EBRAC 1.2 109% 87% EBRAC 1.2 110% 88% EBRAC 1.2 111% 89% EBRAC 1.2 112% 90% EBRAC 1.2 113% 91% EBRAC 1.2 114% 92% EBRAC 1.2 115% 93% EBRAC 1.2 116% 94% EBRAC 1.2 117% 95% EBRAC 1.2 118% 96% EBRAC 1.2 119% 97% EBRAC 1.2 120% 98% EBRAC 1.2 121% 99% EBRAC 1.2 122% 100% EBRAC 1.2 123% 101% EBRAC 1.2 124% 102% EBRAC 1.2 125% 103% EBRAC 1.2 126% 104% EBRAC 1.2 127% 105% EBRAC 1.2 128% 106% EBRAC 1.2 129% 107% EBRAC 1.2 130% 108% EBRAC 1.2 131% 109% EBRAC 1.2 132% 110% EBRAC 1.2 133% 111% EBRAC 1.2 134% 112% EBRAC 1.2 135% 113% EBRAC 1.2 136% 114% EBRAC 1.2 137% 115% EBRAC 1.2 138% 116% EBRAC 1.2 139% 117% EBRAC 1.2 140% 118% EBRAC 1.2 141% 119% EBRAC 1.2 142% 120% EBRAC 1.2 143% 121% EBRAC 1.2 144% 122% EBRAC 1.2 145% 123% EBRAC 1.2 146% 124% EBRAC 1.2 147% 125% EBRAC 1.2 148% 126% EBRAC 1.2 149% 127% EBRAC 1.2 150% 128% EBRAC 1.2 151% 129% EBRAC 1.2 152% 130% EBRAC 1.2 153% 131% EBRAC 1.2 154% 132% EBRAC 1.2 155% 133% EBRAC 1.2 156% 134% EBRAC 1.2 157% 135% EBRAC 1.2 158% 136% EBRAC 1.2 159% 137% EBRAC 1.2 160% 138% EBRAC 1.2 161% 139% EBRAC 1.2 162% 140% EBRAC 1.2 163% 141% EBRAC 1.2 164% 142% EBRAC 1.2 165% 143% EBRAC 1.2 166% 144% EBRAC 1.2 167% 145% EBRAC 1.2 168% 146% EBRAC 1.2 169% 147% EBRAC 1.2 170% 148% EBRAC 1.2 171% 149% EBRAC 1.2 172% 150% EBRAC 1.2 173% 151% EBRAC 1.2 174% 152% EBRAC 1.2 175% 153% EBRAC 1.2 176% 154% EBRAC 1.2 177% 155% EBRAC 1.2 178% 156% EBRAC 1.2 179% 157% EBRAC 1.2 180% 158% EBRAC 1.2 181% 159% EBRAC 1.2 182% 160% EBRAC 1.2 183% 161% EBRAC 1.2 184% 162% EBRAC 1.2 185% 163% EBRAC 1.2 186% 164% EBRAC 1.2 187% 165% EBRAC 1.2 188% 166% EBRAC 1.2 189% 167% EBRAC 1.2
---	--

[illegible]

64 54% Nabisco 2.20 30 37 4 69 39%
65% 57 Nalvo Ch 83 27 60 next pag
(Continued on next pag

New York Stock Exchange Trading

Stocks and Bonds	High	Low	Open	Close	Net
1000 Dow Jones Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 S&P 500 Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Comp. Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Ind. Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Fin. Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Tech. Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Health Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Energy Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Telecom Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Media Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Retail Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Food Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Drug Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Chemical Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Equipment Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Transportation Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Services Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Real Estate Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Leisure Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Other Ind.	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00
1000 NYSE Total	1000.00	999.00	1000.00	999.00	+1.00

Eurodollars

May 31, 1972

Period	Rate	Change
7 Day	4.14	+1.14
One Month	4.14	+1.14
Three Months	4.14	+1.14
Six Months	4.14	+1.14
One Year	4.14	+1.14

European Markets

(Yesterday's closing prices in local currencies)

Market	Stock	Price
Amsterdam	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 AEX Ind.	1000.00
Brussels	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
	1000 C2X Ind.	1000.00
Düsseldorf	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
	1000 DAX Ind.	1000.00
London	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
	1000 FTSE Ind.	1000.00
Paris	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
	1000 CAC Ind.	1000.00
Zurich	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00
	1000 SMI Ind.	1000.00

We are pleased to announce that

NATHANIEL SAMUELS

former Deputy Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs has rejoined our firm as a General Partner

effective June 1, 1972

Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Investment Bankers & Stock Brokers

Domestically & Internationally

— 36 years of profitability and financial strength including more than 20 years of growing service to Europe

— Institutional research, including broad-spectrum economic and industry analyses and intensive concentration on specific situations

— Underwriting and corporate finance expertise

— International investment portfolio management

— Specialized communication and administrative network for execution and settlement of orders from Europe

— Put and call option department

— Market makers in bank, insurance, foreign securities and in corporate and municipal bonds

Member New York, American and other principal Stock Exchanges
 Brussels: 5 Boulevard de l'Empire, Phone: 12-38.10, Telex: 221723
 Amsterdam: Herengracht 456, Phone: 24.04.13, Telex: 13510 & 13513
 Geneva: 118, Rue du Rhône, Phone: 35.55.05, Telex: 23395
 London: 4-8 Wood Street, Phone: 01-505-3322, Telex: 88448
 Paris: 23, Place Vendôme, Phone: 286-53-48, Telex: 21051
 Tokyo: 2-3, Marunouchi 3-Chome, Phone: 212-5521, Telex: J 28250

Burnham & Company Inc.

We are pleased to announce that

Peter H. Riedener

is now associated with our organization as

Vice President—Marketing

Oppenheimer & Co. Ltd.

Members New York Stock Exchange

17a Curzon Street, London W1Y 7FE

01-493 6090

INTRODUCING A NEW MULTI-CURRENCY ISSUE

U.S. $3,000,000

(or its foreign currency equivalent)

8%

CAPITAL NOTES DUE 1977

of

THE INTERNATIONAL BANK

with Warrants attached

AN INVESTMENT IN INTERNATIONAL MERCHANT BANKING

CAPITAL NOTES

To subscribe bank funds for the continued expansion of the bank through the financing and/or acquisition of companies from whose growth The International Bank, its noteholders and shareholders may profit.

WARRANTS

To provide noteholders of The International Bank the opportunity to participate, at special terms, in the anticipated growth of certain companies in which the bank, in its normal function of merchant banker, has taken an equity position.

Notes may be subscribed in U.S. Dollars, Swiss Francs or German Marks. Notes will be issued in the currency in which they are subscribed. Interest will be paid in the subscription currency.

Principal Underwriter: INTERBANK HOUSE GROUP
 INTERBANK HOUSE, GRAND CAYMAN, B.M.L.
 Telex: 02211 (INBANK) Tel: 2-2851 Cable: INTERBANK
 Trustee, Registrar and Transfer Agent: Sterling Bank & Trust Company Ltd.

To: Interbank House Group SEND VIA AIR MAIL
 INTERBANK HOUSE
 GRAND CAYMAN
 BRITISH WEST INDIES

I understand you are the principal underwriter for the 8 year 8% Capital Notes of The International Bank with Warrants attached. Please send me full documentation on this issue.

Name: _____ Phone No. _____
 City: _____ Street: _____
 Country: _____ Profession: _____

Inc. And S.A. and Ltd. and GmbH — you see the key ones every day in the advertising columns of the International Herald Tribune.

For this is the paper the significant Europeans read — and this is the audience significant corporate advertisers are talking to.

R
I
P

K
I
R
B Y

By Alan Truscott

♠ KJ10983
 ♥ 7
 ♦ AK5
 ♣ AK2

Both sides were vulnerable. The bidding:

	South	West	North	East
1	♠	Pass	2	♦
3	♠	Pass	4	♠
4	N.T.	Pass	5	♥
6	♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West led the heart king.

heart lead in dummy and made a key play. She ruffed a heart. She foresaw that her trump length might be an embarrassment rather than an asset if East held four or five spades including the queen.

A trump was led to dummy's ace at the third trick, and the trump situation was thereby revealed. Congratulating herself on her prescience in ruffing a heart, South took the marked finesse in spades.

South cashed the ace-king of diamonds, and was happy to see the queen fall. It proved a mistake that East would follow to three rounds of clubs. South won the next three tricks with the ace-king of clubs in the closed hand and the queen in dummy, and ruffed another heart. She led her remaining diamond at the fifth trick, and East was forced to take either the trump queen or seven and lead into the king-jack in the closed hand.

Notice that if South had not ruffed a heart at the second trick she would have had one trump too many and would eventually have had to surrender a trick to East's queen.

[illegible]

DENNIS THE MENACE

"WE KEEP HIM PENNED UP BECAUSE HE'S GOT A REAL BAD TEMPER."

' I WONDER IF MRS. WILSON EVER THOUGHT ABOUT THAT ?'

that scrambled word game
by HENRI ARNOLD and BOB LEE

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

LESOO. • Tested The Chicago Tribune World-King's Restaurant

SII 44

TORMAN

PLOGES

File # CHURCH STREET

Jumblest OWING CR

CITIES OF LIGHT AND SONS OF MORNING

By Martin Green. Little, Brown. 465 pp. $15.

Reviewed by Thomas Lask

THE argument in Martin Green's book grew out of a personal dilemma. British by birth, educated in the United States and in England, a literary critic and cultural historian, he is more and more that he was failing his students. They were unhappy with what they were receiving, he not overly content in what he was giving them. The traditional history of English literature and its arrangement into courses of study, the imparting of the knowledge of clear English prose and the ability to use it had become bankrupt endeavors. But the more he probed into the situation, the more he was forced to admit that the real problem lay not so much with the trappings of study as with the kind of man he was: moderate in outlook, not overly inclined to action, setting great value by the very studies his students were repudiating, more or less balanced, stable, unexcitable, but with a certain feeling, and not without feelings of rebellion, but he was no radical, no revolutionary, which roughly is what his students seemed to require. It was not a role he could honestly fill, though he understood the situation that demanded it.

His predicament started him on a train of thought that led to the heart of the book: an analysis of the qualities of mind that has characterized a number of literary and historical figures since the Renaissance, some of them, like John Calvin, powerfully influential. He goes one further. He also argues that these men have been intimately related to the crises in which they lived and acted. The Ivy League milieu into which he fit so comfortably acted retroactively to nurture and expose a mal of Green's makeup. When the students rebelled against the traditional courses, they rebelled against him and the place.

He has therefore come up with three types of mind, of temperaments, to use his word: the Faustian, the Krasnian and the Calvinist. The first is a spirit who wishes to trade values for experience and is willing to cast off all values to arrive at the new, even if it means traversing the indecent, the perverted, the outrageous. The Faustian wants to acquire "swollen powers" so that he can squeeze everything out of life. The Krasnian man is what Green believes himself to be. It is a man who can be rebuffed, but not what may be rebuffed, understanding a little bloodless. It is a temperament found often on campus. It fits the academician; its symbol is the crucifixion.

vinist man, who is the part whose sole wish is for the of his view, who finds it in confinement, happy duty, fulfillment in the Mallet, Leslie Mallet, Her-for are among those that would place among the Big Lionel Trilling and E. M.
 among the Kramscans, Chamsky, the Bergmans,
 the Calvinists to speak our contemporaries.

In accordance with his he shows how New York the Second Mallet, in the second place of Western second phase of God's ment after his "Sins Drang" period, how the city of Edinburgh about a 1880. It is the liberal love literary folk who flourish it and how radical the period just prior to French revolution reflects radicals of that time.
 his sharpest contrasts is between the Geneva of the ascent of the Hymns of
 For the first, he looks to be far more poetical than it is. It is, on the involved in argument, and by the very nature definitions not always to He couldn't be. The so is too narrow and the me-was designed to serve too in Saul Fellow a Faustian Rousseau even by the own assessment was so Faustian sometimes. And then there is the freely acknowledged, that he may be Kramscan by the ment and yet express the outlook in his writing.
 Mallet was surely among
 The author greatness of
 He has that greatness in Faustian man and those both write about and are in undergo the experience of this pursuit not highest marks. That is considers Mallet our literary figure and Fie-our essential critic. The are, virtually the complement, among contemporary writers. But his own personal problem will enable him, a Kramscan nature which not want to deny, to be the revolutionary challenge.

The reasoning is both illustrative material and when the reader is into grant that it holds come, the blending of geography, history and speculation, ingenious where the reader is it is pleasure to find literary byways to his themes.

Mr. Lask is a book
The New York Times.

CROSSWORD _____ By Will

Bv Will

ACROSS		51 Mote	14 Doing Europe
1 Most of Switzerland	53 Cheese	20 Sweeps
5 Pageantry	55 Bert Lahr	21 Letters
9 Stages	60 portrayal	24 Old World
13 Chessman	62 Kind of school	25 Izzard
14 Sot	63 Germ cell	25 Courtyard vic
15 ½ pint	64 "—each	27 Kind of stone
16 Festive	65 "Life..."	28 Amass
17 Papal vestment	65 Advantage	30 Kind of TV
18 Harbetshest	66 Young eel	31 Reeds
19 Nash-Pearlman	67 Hollow	32 Groups of objects musical	68 Catch, as of fish
22 Thrivel	69 Famed Army surgeon	35 Broadway offering
22 Poetic adverb	70 Otherwise	38 Whittens
24 Doctors' org.		40 N.F.L. player
26 Abundant	DOWN
29 Sanity	1 Constellation	43 Aware of
33 Flatus	2 Touch of a sort	45 Swirl
34 Nose	3 Widely divergent	48 Divining rod
36 Room, in Dresden	4 Fellow, usually good	52 Furniture w/
37 Omani	5 Swine Fr.	54 Teeming, w/ "with"
38 Targets	6 Ocean food fish	55 1969 best sel.
41 Nigerian people	7 Shade of pink	56 Mask
42 Miss Thomas	8 Chocoy	57 Roe
44 Gab	9 Intellectuals	58 Range
46 — fly	10 College subject: Abbr.	59 Scott
47 Heed	11 Spiritual tutor	60 Revolutionary patriot
48 Stained	12 Karioly Vary and others	61 Canonical lit.
50 Magazine number: Abbr.

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.

(Answers tomorrow)

DOKE SLOGAN IRONIC

Yesterday's Jumble: OWING CHOKE SLOGAN IRONIC
Answer: It's definitely a racket! — NOISE

Orantes

French Open

HIGH KICK—Inter of Milan's Facchetti attacks but Ajax of Amsterdam won the European Cup game last night in Rotterdam.

Robinson Leads Dodgers to First

From Wire Dispatches
SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Some of his Los Angeles Dodgers teammates call Frank Robinson the quiet leader, but the 36-year-old outfielder says: "I've never been called quiet." His leadership role with his new team has had more to do with what he does than what he says.

With the Baltimore Orioles last year, he said, the younger players "would come to me more readily than they have here so far. Whether they will look up to me here, I don't know."

"You want players to respect you as a person and as a ball player. The way you do, not what you say."

What Frank Robinson did last night was drive in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a two-run eighth-inning homer as Los Angeles rolled to its fourth straight victory and into first place in the National League West with a 5-3 triumph over the San Francisco Giants.

The Giants, who fell behind 3-0 by the second, tied the score at 3-3 in the seventh on a triple by Ken Henderson and a single by Bobby Bonds, but in the eighth Willie Davis singled and Robinson followed with his seventh homer as Claude Osteen picked up his sixth victory in eight decisions.

A single by Bobby Valentine, a triple by Davis, and Robinson's sacrifice fly netted the Dodgers two runs in the first.

Robinson, who has led the team in batting average, is in his 17th big league season. He may make it 20 before he retires as a player, and after that he may try managing a team.

"I don't think that much about managing now," he said. "Every man's aware. It's old hat. I don't mind someone in baseball calling me up to talk about it, but I don't want the press asking, 'Wouldn't you like to manage there?' 'Are you taking that job?'"

When the Dodgers acquired Robinson, there was speculation that he and Maury Wills, the team captain, might clash over leadership.

"I'm a professional baseball player and I want to win," Robinson said. "He goes about doing his job and I go about mine. I'm not going to say anything. I lead by what I do. He leads by what he does. He's the captain and I respect that. He has the authority. He's that of a coach. But that doesn't stop me from giving advice."

In New York, Rusty Staub went 4-for-4 and drove in four runs and unbeaton Jon Matlack pitched a three-hitter to lead the Mets to a 7-0 victory over Philadelphia. The loss was the Phils' 14th in their last 15 games. Matlack, a 23-year-old southpaw, struck out six and walked five as he raised his win-loss record to 6-0.

Red Sox 6, Orioles 0
 In the American League, Tommy Harper and Carlton Fisk hit home runs to back the three-hit pitching of Ray Culp as Boston snapped the Orioles' four-game winning streak with a 6-0 victory in Baltimore.

Boston scored three unearned runs in the second inning off Cuellar and added three more in the fourth when Fisk lamed his second home run and Harper cracked a two-run shot, his sixth, after Culp singled.

Rangers 3, A's 2
 Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly drove in Dave Nelson with the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning and enabled Texas to snap Oakland's five-game winning streak with a 3-2 victory at home.

Brewers 3, Yankees 1
 At Milwaukee, Skip Lockwood allowed just one hit—a sixth-inning single to Rusty Torres—to pitch the Brewers to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees and give Del Crandall a victory in his managerial debut. Crandall, a former major league catcher, replaced Dave Bristol, who was fired Sunday.

Twins 3, Royals 2
 Phil Ruffalo, who was batting .180 before the game, hit his first two home runs of the season to pace Minnesota to a 3-2 home triumph over Kansas City. Roof, who last hit a homer with the Milwaukee Brewers last year, before a mid-season trade brought him to Minneapolis, broke a 1-1 tie when he opened the second with a 263-foot clout off Paul Splittorff. The Minnesota catcher's other homer, leading off the fourth, broke a 2-2 tie. Jim Perry registered his fourth victory. He retired 12 straight batters after Steve Howley, in the third inning, hit his first home run since 1969.

Angels 6, White Sox 0
 Bob Oliver drove in four runs, three with a first-inning home run, as California blanked the White Sox, 6-0, in Chicago. Nolan Ryan, overcoming his customary wildness, walked four and struck out 10. It was his third shutout and fourth triumph against four losses.

to bring this club together just by being here." Buckner: "Even though he hasn't been hitting that outstanding, he gets the big hit when we need it. When there's a man on third and he's up, you know the run will score. The way he knows how to play baseball and he does a lot of little things you wouldn't expect a 36-year-old man to do, like stealing a base or taking an extra base."

Robinson has said, "I do things that are expected. I do things that should be done. I think everything has been said or written about Frank Robinson over the last 12 1/2 years. I get tired of picking up a newspaper or magazine and reading the same things."

Robinson, who had 10 seasons at Cincinnati before he was traded to Baltimore, is in his 17th big league campaign. He may make it 20 before he retires as a player, and after that he may try managing a team.

"I don't think that much about managing now," he said. "Every man's aware. It's old hat. I don't mind someone in baseball calling me up to talk about it, but I don't want the press asking, 'Wouldn't you like to manage there?' 'Are you taking that job?'"

When the Dodgers acquired Robinson, there was speculation that he and Maury Wills, the team captain, might clash over leadership.

"I'm a professional baseball player and I want to win," Robinson said. "He goes about doing his job and I go about mine. I'm not going to say anything. I lead by what I do. He leads by what he does. He's the captain and I respect that. He has the authority. He's that of a coach. But that doesn't stop me from giving advice."

In New York, Rusty Staub went 4-for-4 and drove in four runs and unbeaton Jon Matlack pitched a three-hitter to lead the Mets to a 7-0 victory over Philadelphia. The loss was the Phils' 14th in their last 15 games. Matlack, a 23-year-old southpaw, struck out six and walked five as he raised his win-loss record to 6-0.

Red Sox 6, Orioles 0
 In the American League, Tommy Harper and Carlton Fisk hit home runs to back the three-hit pitching of Ray Culp as Boston snapped the Orioles' four-game winning streak with a 6-0 victory in Baltimore.

Boston scored three unearned runs in the second inning off Cuellar and added three more in the fourth when Fisk lamed his second home run and Harper cracked a two-run shot, his sixth, after Culp singled.

Rangers 3, A's 2
 Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly drove in Dave Nelson with the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning and enabled Texas to snap Oakland's five-game winning streak with a 3-2 victory at home.

Brewers 3, Yankees 1
 At Milwaukee, Skip Lockwood allowed just one hit—a sixth-inning single to Rusty Torres—to pitch the Brewers to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees and give Del Crandall a victory in his managerial debut. Crandall, a former major league catcher, replaced Dave Bristol, who was fired Sunday.

Twins 3, Royals 2
 Phil Ruffalo, who was batting .180 before the game, hit his first two home runs of the season to pace Minnesota to a 3-2 home triumph over Kansas City. Roof, who last hit a homer with the Milwaukee Brewers last year, before a mid-season trade brought him to Minneapolis, broke a 1-1 tie when he opened the second with a 263-foot clout off Paul Splittorff. The Minnesota catcher's other homer, leading off the fourth, broke a 2-2 tie. Jim Perry registered his fourth victory. He retired 12 straight batters after Steve Howley, in the third inning, hit his first home run since 1969.

Angels 6, White Sox 0
 Bob Oliver drove in four runs, three with a first-inning home run, as California blanked the White Sox, 6-0, in Chicago. Nolan Ryan, overcoming his customary wildness, walked four and struck out 10. It was his third shutout and fourth triumph against four losses.

The right-hander struck out five men and walked only two batters in chalking up his 208th career victory.

Brook drove in the only run of the game in the fifth inning after Dal Maxwell singled and advanced on Gibson's sacrifice bunt.

Ajax Wins Title Game With Inter

Cruyff Scores 2 In European Cup

ROTTERDAM, May 31 (AP).—Dutch soccer star Johan Cruyff scored both goals tonight as Ajax of Amsterdam swept majestically to a 2-0 victory over Inter of Milan to clinch the European Cup of Soccer Champions for the second straight year.

After a goalless first half, Cruyff, 25, believed by many as the most valuable player in European soccer, scored the winners in the 47th and 76th minutes. He scored his goals with almost nonchalant ease, emphasizing the mastery of the Dutch team throughout the game, watched by 65,000 fans.

The cup thus remained in the Netherlands for the third successive year following Feyenoord's 1970 victory and the Ajax triumph last season.

Ajax, which has already won the Dutch league and Cup trophies, also became the fourth team to win the European Cup in successive seasons, following Real Madrid (five times) in a row from 1956 to 1960, Benfica (1961 and 1962) and Inter-Milan (1964-65).

Ajax, which last year beat Panathinaikos of Athens, 2-0, in the final, thus qualified to meet Independiente of Buenos Aires in the World Clubs cup final.

Ajax, playing in its third final in four years, monopolized the early play and Ivano Bordon, Inter's 21-year-old reserve goalkeeper, was soon under pressure from a succession of swirling crosses and a long-range shot from Johann Neekens.

Inter, noted for its tight defense, rarely ventured upfield and Robert Boninsegna, top scorer in the Italian league with 22 goals this season, had no chance to score.

Inter's Giubertoni was injured and went off for treatment after eleven minutes immediately after Cruyff had given the Italian defense an anxious moment with a dangerous left-wing run. Giubertoni did not return and was replaced by Bertini.

Ajax showed the greater mobility throughout the game. Cruyff was yards faster on the ball than his shadow, Orlandi of Inter.

There were two times when Cruyff darted through the entire Italian defense, only to have his well-placed centers be cleared by the struggling Italians.

Silence Is Best
MANCHESTER, England, May 31 (Reuters).—George Best, 26, the brilliant Manchester United and Northern Ireland soccer star who recently announced his retirement, refused to speak about his future when he arrived here from Spain yesterday.

Looking tanned and relaxed, Best happily signed autographs as he waited at London's Heathrow airport for his flight to Manchester. "I'm going home for a sleep," said Best, "then I'm going to retire."

Peppone Decides It Is Now Time To Come Back

CHICAGO, May 31 (UPI).—Joe Peppone, the Chicago Cubs' first baseman who announced his retirement May 2, will be back in person on Thursday & Friday (3:58-4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Ferraris Pass Up 24 Hours of Le Mans

MODENA, Italy, May 31 (UPI).—The Ferrari auto company, which has already clinched the World Manufacturers' championship by winning all eight races held so far, announced today it would not compete in the 24 Hours of Le Mans race in France June 10 and 11.

The announcement said Ferrari "regretfully" made the decision because it felt its 312P prototype is best suited for races of less than 1,000 kilometers and six hours.

The company made one exception earlier this year when it entered the Sebring 12-hour race. Its victory in that race led it to test the 8,000-cubic-centimeter, 12-cylinder prototype for endurance to see if it should enter Le Mans.

A company spokesman said the tests are still under way on a superhighway under construction south of Turin, but the company did not await the outcome before announcing its decision not to run.

Earlier today, Ferrari shipped three 312B2 cars to Spa for Sunday's Belgian Formula One Grand Prix, but said only two, piloted by Belgium's Jackie Ickx and Switzerland's Clay Regazzoni, would compete.

It had earlier been expected that Ferrari would enter four cars in Le Mans, the ninth race in the World Manufacturers series.

Last year's winner, Porsche, will not have a team prototype in this race either. The company pulled out when the engine capacity for the Le Mans cars was reduced from five to three liters.

Ed Tutwiler, of Indianapolis, however, couldn't hold his lead and lost by one hole against Irishman Joe Carr, who appeared beaten with four holes to play.

The American, at 52, two years older than the tall Irishman, was three up after sinking an eight-foot birdie putt at the 14th. But the former British Walker Cup skipper came on to clinch victory on the final green which Tutwiler double-bogied.

Top-seeded Mike Smealack, five-hole winner of the title, again failed to impress but reached the fourth round with a 2 and 1 victory over fellow-Briton Drew Montagu.

It was the end of the road today for Scottish boy wonder David Robertson, 14.

He was beaten at the 19th by 19-year-old Simon Cox of England after losing a three-up lead with five to play.

Munich Games Won't Overtax German Citizens
MUNICH, May 31 (UPI).—German taxpayers will have to defray less than half of the astronomical costs of the Olympic Games which start Aug. 28, treasurer Rüdiger Eberhard told an Olympic organizing committee at its latest meeting.

"In his report," Eberhard said, "64.22 percent of the total costs of 1972 billion marks ($800 million) will be met by so-called Olympic limited revenues."

The main sources of revenues come from sales of the Olympic coin (a ten mark piece which will yield a profit of 710 million marks ($220 million)); the Olympic lottery, which is still selling tickets, that has brought 174 million marks ($54 million) so far, and the "sprawl of luck" television lottery, which brought the organizers 185 million marks ($58 million).

An estimated 35 million marks ($10.9 million) are expected from ticket sales.

Left for the taxpayers is 686 million marks ($213 million), an amount that comes close to the 500-million mark ($150 million) calculation when Munich was bidding for the games six years ago.

The Federal Republic will meet 50 percent of the debts, Bavaria and Munich 25 percent.

The organizing committee invested 1.35 billion marks ($420 million) for building the Olympic area and all the facilities at Munich and 96 million marks ($30 million) to set up the Kiel yachting facilities.

The organizing of the games will take 527 million marks ($153 million).

Summing up, Eberhard said, "The value of the Olympic Games is in correct proportion to the expenses and the amount for which the taxpayer has to be charged."

Peitone Decides It Is Now Time To Come Back
CHICAGO, May 31 (UPI).—Joe Peppone, the Chicago Cubs' first baseman who announced his retirement May 2, will be back in person on Thursday & Friday (3:58-4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Tutwiler Ousted in Amateur Golf

SANDWICH, England, May 31 (UPI).—Dick Siderowf and Marty West made it to the last 32, but Ed Tutwiler lost the "battle of veterans" today in the British amateur golf championship.

West, 22, from Washington, survived a final battle by Englishman David Hedges to win, 2 and 1, in his third-round match. Siderowf, 34-year-old former Walker Cupper from Westport, Conn., "got away with a bad round" and beat George Hyde, 5 and 3.

Ed Tutwiler, of Indianapolis, however, couldn't hold his lead and lost by one hole against Irishman Joe Carr, who appeared beaten with four holes to play.

The American, at 52, two years older than the tall Irishman, was three up after sinking an eight-foot birdie putt at the 14th. But the former British Walker Cup skipper came on to clinch victory on the final green which Tutwiler double-bogied.

Top-seeded Mike Smealack, five-hole winner of the title, again failed to impress but reached the fourth round with a 2 and 1 victory over fellow-Briton Drew Montagu.

It was the end of the road today for Scottish boy wonder David Robertson, 14.

He was beaten at the 19th by 19-year-old Simon Cox of England after losing a three-up lead with five to play.

Munich Games Won't Overtax German Citizens
MUNICH, May 31 (UPI).—German taxpayers will have to defray less than half of the astronomical costs of the Olympic Games which start Aug. 28, treasurer Rüdiger Eberhard told an Olympic organizing committee at its latest meeting.

"In his report," Eberhard said, "64.22 percent of the total costs of 1972 billion marks ($800 million) will be met by so-called Olympic limited revenues."

The main sources of revenues come from sales of the Olympic coin (a ten mark piece which will yield a profit of 710 million marks ($220 million)); the Olympic lottery, which is still selling tickets, that has brought 174 million marks ($54 million) so far, and the "sprawl of luck" television lottery, which brought the organizers 185 million marks ($58 million).

An estimated 35 million marks ($10.9 million) are expected from ticket sales.

Left for the taxpayers is 686 million marks ($213 million), an amount that comes close to the 500-million mark ($150 million) calculation when Munich was bidding for the games six years ago.

The Federal Republic will meet 50 percent of the debts, Bavaria and Munich 25 percent.

The organizing committee invested 1.35 billion marks ($420 million) for building the Olympic area and all the facilities at Munich and 96 million marks ($30 million) to set up the Kiel yachting facilities.

The organizing of the games will take 527 million marks ($153 million).

Summing up, Eberhard said, "The value of the Olympic Games is in correct proportion to the expenses and the amount for which the taxpayer has to be charged."

Peitone Decides It Is Now Time To Come Back
CHICAGO, May 31 (UPI).—Joe Peppone, the Chicago Cubs' first baseman who announced his retirement May 2, will be back in person on Thursday & Friday (3:58-4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Matson Finds the Shot-Put Is No Longer 1-Man Event

NEW YORK, May 31 (UPI).—There was a time when Randy Matson was a trade name for the shot-put, when he had the 25 longest marks of all time, when losing his event—not winning it—made news.

Now, however, as the 6-foot-6-inch, 275-pound Texan struggles to regain the range and form that carried him to the world record and 1968 Olympic gold medal, he is finding new challenges in every circle.

First, Al Feuerbach found the formula for effectiveness, then East Germans joined the international lists. Last weekend in Wichita, Kan., George Woods, the 300-pound Olympic silver medalist in Mexico City, turned a career-best put of 69 feet 9 1/4 inches into a victory over Matson, who managed 62.9 1/2.

Woods' surprising comeback (he did not even compete last year) reflected the uncertainty that continues to cloud the Olympic picture in American track and field, less than one month before the United States trials. Consider other developments at major meets last weekend:

Jim Ryun, world record-holder in the mile, bidding for a third Olympic berth, withdrew from an 880-yard run in Wichita, his home town, with a slight muscle strain on the right thigh, uncertain about his next race.

Injuries to three other potential American medalists in Munich, Pat Matzford (sprained heel), Dick Drescher (bad hand) and Ken Swenson (pulled Achilles tendon) left their training programs in limbo.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

Fame Van Zijl and Peter Kaal, South Africans barred from the Olympics along with their countrymen, swept two invitation mile races with sub-4-minute performances. Van Zijl clocked 3 minutes 55 seconds, the fastest mile for the United States this year, and outran Juris Lazins (3:58.2), the top-ranking American half-miler, and Duncan MacDonald (3:58.4) at the Modesto (Calif.) relay. Kaal ran 3:59.9 in Wichita.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, in his first important sprint test of the spring after a painful knee injury last February, finished fourth in a heat of an open 100-meter dash in Modesto. Meriwether failed to qualify for the final.

A high school quarter-miler from Virginia, Ronnie Ray, set a school record in a 5 state meet with a winning performance of 45.8 seconds, only one-tenth of a second slower than the times of a pair of gold medal Olympians at Modesto, Lee Evans and Vince Matthews.

The national collegiate outdoor championships Thursday through Saturday at Eugene, Ore., should offer a significant test of where many American athletes are headed in the coming weeks.

son, com-
50-50. brokerage firm. Call: 462-3733.
Paris (11 a.m.-5 p.m.).